Road & Bridge Department Have Critical Budget Decisions

Written by Janet Juroch

Boise County -- For the Road and Bridge Department of Boise County, there is uneasiness these days when looking at current and future budgets. The department depends on Secure Rural Schools (SRS) funding and Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILT) programs to operate on. These are governmental programs, designed to help rural schools and county road departments. These programs make it possible for the road and bridge department to operate, without requiring the taxpayers of the county to fund this. However, that may need to be changed in the future.

Due to considerable decline in Federal timber sales, SRS payments were designed to offset the loss of the local share of the revenue generated from the timber sales. Approximately 80% of Idaho counties received these funds, because of the large amounts of National Forest land.

The current SRS program expired in the fall of 2015 and has not been reauthorized. There have been no payments for nearly a year. Without SRS funding the reduction of services from the Road and Bridge Department will be inevitable.

The Boise County Commissioners discussed this topic at the last meeting. Bill Jones, Road and Bridge Superintendent discussed some of the budgetary numbers and concerns due to the SRS funding shortfall expected. Jones also mentioned that he “sees no additional funding coming in”.

Jones said, “Essentially we looked at our budget and extracted everything we possibly could. And there is some money where we could have extra. I am not trying to get it down to the penny, but trying to get it close. So we are projecting right now to be one hundred fifty thousand over what we will receive in revenue.”

He continued, “I don’t know what [commissioners] have in mind to do. I would like to keep the workforce the way it is if there is any possibility just because if we start to lose guys, then it is very difficult to replace them. I would like to ride this storm out for at least twelve months until we can determine and see what the [constituents] choose. If the [constituents] choose not to fund this department, then we will have to reduce services. We don’t have any choice. So that is a huge impact and people probably don’t really understand.”

Creating a County Highway District is an alternative, to the lack of funding, which the road department is encountering. Jones says, “I think it is simply unrealistic for us to continue to step back and think that somebody is going to replace [funding] with the current administration. Not likely to happen. Last payment was $727,223.”

In Jones report, he stated, “We just make our payments on our equipment that we have and we grade and patch potholes, we will still be short of what we are going to have in revenue. This is after removing everything possible.” The Road and Bridge Department’s primary income comes from fuel taxes and SRS funds. Jones agrees that the SRS funding has been a “black cloud over our heads”. He will compose a list for the commissioners to show services that will be cut, if there is no new funding available. This can be provided to constituents of the county, as public meetings go forward, to answer questions.

Commissioner Roger Jackson reminded Jones about part of the Banks Lowman Road nearest to Lowman that needs chip seal through a proposed grant. Cost to the county is around another one hundred fifty thousand of matching funds. Ward said, “That could be a few years out, but at this point, there is no way.” Jones agreed, “Well at this point in time it is not something we can do. We certainly do not have to accept that [grant]... but it would be a terrible thing for the [chip sealing] to [not happen].”

Alan Ward, Board of County Commissioners [BOCC] Chairman stated for the record, “People may not realize that the SRS and PILT dollars are not being appropriated or reauthorized....so we are looking at a four-hundred and fifty-thousand-dollar shortfall.” This is under a normal budget year. Ward commented, “This is very, very serious. We may have to hold some public meetings about this and the considerations of developing a Highway District.”

County Clerk of the Board, Mary Prisco, noted that the SRS funding going to schools is reduced as well. Twenty-two thousand is all that will be distributed to the three school districts in the county. She asked for a chart or graph to be produced, which would help the public to understand the reduction of funding rates.

Prosecuting Attorney Dan Blocksom asked to get estimates of costs for setting up a Highway District. After a series of public meetings, a Highway District could be voted on in a November General Election. The next General Election takes place in 2018. Elections Clerk Sarita Loya is going to look into this further with the Secretary of State, since this is a county matter.

A Highway District would change how the Road and Bridge Department is currently operated. Districts require their own commissioners. The BOCC agreed that this would be an ongoing discussion, to determine if Boise County residents are in favor of this.

GARDEN VALLEY SENIOR & SOCIAL CENTER NEWS

By Al Scharf

There's a potluck dinner at the Garden Valley Senior Center tonight, Wednesday, beginning at 6:00 p.m. Bring something to share, main dish, salad, dessert, and come prepared for lots of good conversation.

Hurrah, the Fit & Fallproof Class, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 3:00 p.m., has started up again. It was so good to see the ladies walking in last week, all chipper and ready to begin a whole new season. They were getting some special training as well so there are new moves and muscles to be exercised after this long winter. Everyone is welcome to join. Come for the exercise and stay for the great conversation afterward!

Put Tuesday, April 25th, 5:30 p.m., on your calendar for the next dinner at the GVSC. It's always a good time, a great meal, and lots of socializing with interesting people!

The AARP Driver Training Course will be offered on Wednesday, April 19th, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Call the Center, 462-3943, to sign up. Your certificate received at the end of the day will likely get you a discount of at least 5% from your car insurance company, and you almost certainly will learn something in the process of taking the training! Last chance to sign up!!!!

Granny's Closet is loaded with all kinds of fascinating stuff, and so much of it changes week after week. It is amazing the donations we receive virtually multiple times each and every day, and it's even more amazing to see how much of that is purchased by folks in our community as well as many people who come to Garden Valley from other places, Boise, Nampa, Caldwell, Mountain Home, Lowman, Cascade, etc. Granny's has quite a following of people who say "if we're in Garden Valley, it's a 'must' to stop at Granny's!"

You'll also want to put Saturday, June 10th, 12 noon, on your calendar. That's the date when the Granny volunteers plan to celebrate our 10th anniversary providing a lunch for our guests, some great prizes, entertainment (you know those Grannies and their reputation!), and a special guest speaker. It's an event you simply do not want to miss!

Full Speed Ahead for Wolverines on Wheels (WOW)

Written by Janet Juroch

Garden Valley -- Another season of mountain biking and inter-scholastic racing schedules are coming. Last week Scott Kahre, Head Coach and Team Director of Wolverines on Wheels got the first 2017 kickoff meeting going to gather last year's group together and welcome new members.

The Wolverine on Wheels is a club at the Garden Valley School for students. It has a purpose to introduce biking or make it a more accessible sport. Club rides are being scheduled at different locations. This past Saturday the group met at Eagle Park in Eagle, despite the morning rain.

The club rides require everyone to wear a helmet and have a bike in working order and a water bottle. Kahre can help get bikes tuned up. He also has resources for borrowing a bike to use. Just like last year when the group formed they had a goal to make it fun and easy to go biking for any student interested. However, the rides are open for anyone and any age and abilities.

These rides will be on a Friday or Saturday during school and others will be decided for the summer. Some rides will be local easy trail rides. Being in the club, the riders can all help Kahre decide good locations for the rides. Getting students to the rides is always possible and carpooling is set up for locations such as Eagle Park. The next club ride is planned the weekend of April 28th/29th. Email Kahre at scottkahre@frontier.com to suggest a preferred day of Friday or Saturday for the ride. Kahre says, "We will definitely ride somewhere closer to home, probably Wash Creek."

There are handouts that Kahre has available at the school. The WOW club also has a Facebook page called Wolverine on Wheels. These are ways to stay up on information like meetings or rides. There will also be events like a bike-a-thon planned.

Interested students 6th -12th can enroll in the Idaho Inter-scholastic Cycling League (IISL). This is a racing league and there are different locations of the races throughout Idaho. Last year there were over five students that enrolled in the league from Garden Valley. They faced stiff competition and racing challenges but are ready to go for it again this year. A "Give it a Try Day" will be at the GV School parking lot on May 15th. This is a great time to get additional information.

To sign up for the IISL, contact Scott Kahre and he will help get registration started. His contact is 208-514-6297. If a bit undecided there is more information on www.idahomtb.org. There will be planned racing events at places such as Galena Lodge, Jug Mountain, Bogus Basin, Warm Lake and Magic Mountain.

Twice a week practice season begins July 1st for IISL races on local trails and at Idaho X-Sports. The practices plan to be on a Monday and Wednesday for those wanting to practice before the races. Idaho X-Sports has many mountain biking trails ready for riders.

Kahre is excited for the new season of riding and is instrumental in bringing a lifelong sport to the area. His message shows his excitement saying, "It's great to see our group coming back together and adding some new faces. This year is going to be a blast!"

EAST BOISE COUNTY

Boise Basin Senior Center What's up in Idaho City?

The interior has been updated with new floors, paint, colorful tablecloths and curtains, and some new kitchen equipment. We are currently working on getting a new heating/cooling system.

Meals are available on Tuesdays and Thursdays and we open at 11:00 am, lunch is served at noon. We serve some amazing meals here, not to mention the awesome cookies baked fresh by our cook, and the atmosphere is very light and fun. Contrary to what many think, this center is not just for our senior citizens. Anybody, any age, can come by. I'm sure the seniors would enjoy your company. All we ask is that you make a donation, if you can.

Written by Boise Basin Senior Center Coordinator Dee Woodstrom -- I would like to extend a warm welcome to any and all people that visit and help support the senior center and I am happy and excited to be on board as the new coordinator there.

The snow has finally stopped, at least we hope so. People are able and willing to get out and about again so why not stop by the Senior Center for lunch! If you haven't been there in a while, you should come by. There are many interesting people that come to the center and they are a joy to talk to and to listen to their stories.

The food pantry is open on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month from 11:30 am to 2:00 pm. There is a silent auction table with some wonderful items, be sure to check it out.

Once a month the Senior Center has a bus that goes to Boise. Again, you do not have to be a "senior" to utilize this service. There is a barber at the center once each month to do haircuts. Check our menu sheet on Face Book, in the Idaho World or at the center for dates and times.

We look forward to having some events at the center, one of them being a Fit & Fall Proof Class starting Thursday, April 13th. It will be on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10:00 am for one hour and why not stay for lunch after that. Everyone is welcome to attend the class!

Could you volunteer a few hours a week or just whenever needed? Do you need to fulfill community service requirements? We are always looking for volunteers to help out and it is a very rewarding experience. Give me a call, we can work something out.

Do you need a place to hold your event or party? Check with us at the center, we are affordable and available most days.

Please contact me at 392-4918 or any Board member for any information you may need or want.

CarrieAnne Kowalczyk (right) will be starting a Fit and Fall Proof class, appropriate for anyone who has the fear of falling down and needs the strength to get back up. This "light strengthening class" is offered two times a week at the Boise Basin Senior Center, for one hour. Class begins at 10am on Thursday, April 13th. Wear comfortable clothes and good walking shoes.

Doug Ebling (above) is ready to serve you on the first Thursday of each month, for your haircut needs, at the Boise Basin Senior Center.

Fatality on Hwy 55

Horseshoe Bend -- On Sunday April 9, 2017, at approximately 4:50 pm, Idaho State Police investigated a single vehicle, injury crash, on State Highway 55 at milepost 58, near Horseshoe Bend.

A motorcyclist was riding southbound on SH55 on a 2012 Harley Davidson motorcycle. The rider failed to negotiate curve and struck the concrete barrier on the southbound side. The rider was separated from the motorcycle and came to rest on the southbound side of SH55. The motorcycle came to rest on the northbound shoulder. The rider was wearing a helmet.

The rider was transported by air ambulance to St. Alphonsus Regional Medical Center in Boise.

Both lanes of travel were blocked for approximately two hours.

It was later confirmed by Boise County Sheriff, Jim Kaczmarek, that this was a fatality. The female motorcyclist, Tamara J. White, 55, of Boise had succumbed to her injuries.

Fish & Game Violations Go To Court

Kevin Baney, of Canyon County, was in court on April 4th. Photo by E. Capson

Written by Eileen Capson
Boise County - Eight people were brought up on Idaho Fish & Game violations in Magistrate Court on April 4. The family had been in a "hunting party," in which some of the members left and another, Kevin Baney, used their tags. Five of these people plead guilty to "transferring a license or tag to another," and their hunting, fishing and trapping licenses were suspended 2 years from that court date. Two of the folks had their charges dismissed and Kevin Baney will be prosecuted in District Court for a felony count of "killing an elk or wasting a big game animal," which had occurred on October 8, 2016. Their lawyer stated, "Kevin's actions put the whole family in a bad situation. Do you pack up and leave, or turn in your son?" Baney will be arraigned on April 13th, 2016.

Understanding Mass Gathering Permits

Written by Janet Juroch
Boise County -- A mass gathering permit is needed when you have 150 or more people coming into an area for any event or reason, except for already established places. The permit process may take a bit of time as it is used to show other agencies in the county such as law enforcement, emergency services that a large gathering will be taking place somewhere in the county. These permits are usually not denied but need to go through a process of a review committee.

John Roberts spoke at the department head meeting portion of the County Commissioners meeting to inform the commissioners of a mass gathering permit for an event in Idaho City. He stated, "The permits first establishes if it is even a concern of the county. If it is pertains to need of county services then the sheriff, me and the road department look at the application."

There have been two of Mass Gathering permits over the last couple of months. The Race to Robie is one of the applications. Roberts explained that the Race to Robie asked for the permit fees to waived. It is noted that the non-profit is good at giving back to the county but still pay for county services for that day. A decision will be made at the following Board of County Commissioners meeting to waive those fees. Alan Ward, Chairman of BOCC, reminded Roberts that decisions of those kinds "are not made on the same day they first hear of it."

The process can take time. Alan Ward asked specifically about the mass gathering permit for the Solar Eclipse event in Garden Valley happening in August. The application came just before Roberts was away on vacation and still has to look at it and make sure it goes to all departments of interest to the permit. It is best to make sure applications are submitted in ample time before events so that the process can take place.

To apply for a Mass Gathering Permit, look at the Boise county website under Mass Gatherings at http://www.boisecounty.us/Mass_Gatherings.aspx. It is important to understand the specifications and application be sent to the County Clerk's office to schedule the review. There is a nine page ordinance to address the permit requirements.

BOISE COUNTY HISTORY

ADVENTURES AT THE OL' DIANA SCHOOL

WRITTEN BY HISTORIAN - JERRY BRANSON

As fall began in 1947, we looked forward to a real school with real kids and a real teacher. Mom was too hard on us. But that's what moms do. At the beginning of September the school opened. There was a teacher, a Mrs. Gardiner from Idaho City, and six kids, although the older boys were high school age. All the others were our age of 11-12. The Coombs family moved in next door to us. They had a girl our age, Rosemary. She had two brothers, Donald and an older brother who did not stay long enough for us to remember him. He went back to Garden Valley as he was in high school. Donald and Rosemary went back to Garden Valley at Christmas break. Another girl named Dixie Lee Dodge spent the winter with her grandmother. She was 11 also. All began well. That got me out of the mine, which was a blessing. Dad was struggling to find the ore vein he was supposed to hit by fall but no luck finding it yet. By then I had learned one lesson I never forgot. It is always more profitable to mine the miners than to mine the gold. That has remained with me from age 11 onward to the present. The mine never paid out anything.

As fall approached, I did learn to shoot a rifle, shotgun and pistol. But in some cases I really learned the hard way. The rifle was easy. It was not too heavy and had three sights on it. I soon learned to be fairly accurate with it. The pistol was another story. My aim, after considerable practice, was lousy at best. It has not gotten much better over the years. Then disaster struck. One day, dad was out back cleaning the guns including the shotgun. He saw a coyote across the creek which was only about 50 feet away. He loaded the shotgun, which was a double barrel 12 gage. He had laid it across the two sawhorses he had out back and cradled the rifle and shotgun across them. I asked if I could sight through the guns, as the rifle was also cradled across the sawhorses. He was doing another task. I picked up the rifle, which was not loaded. I pointed it across the creek and pulled the trigger. It went snap and I laid it down again. Then I picked up the shotgun. I also aimed it across the creek and pulled both triggers. Bent over slightly and firing both barrels of the shotgun was not for kids. The recoil slammed me back into the exterior wall of the house and my shoulder seems to have gone off into outer space and taken the rest of me with it. PAIN. It might have hurt worse but the collision with the house added severe posterior PAIN. I was sure I was going to die. Unfortunately I lived in pain for many days. Dad sent me to bed to suffer. I did that to the best of my ability. But I did fine with the rifle which led to hunting later in the fall.

An old miner named Jim Ballinger moved into the house next to the school house and was hired by the school district to care for the school itself by keeping the interior swept and dusted, cutting firewood and shoveling snow in the winter. But one day, the teacher went outside and let out a shrill shriek, then began dress down Mr. Ballinger. It seems he had rinsed out his long johns and hung them over the well on the rope with water dripping down into the well. He got a real earful. He apologized but that did not matter as Mrs. Gardiner was not a happy camper, for some strange reason. That was the last time he used the well rope for a clothes line. Mr. Ballinger mad sure he did not cross Mrs. Gardiner again.

School was going well and nonsense was at a minimum. But I could not resist changing that. Each of our desks had an ink well. Mrs. Gardiner put ink into them to teach us to use a quill pen. The girls sat in from to me. They got into a pigtail mode of hair style. Pig tails and ink wells went together quite well. I could not resist. My turn in the barrel with Mr. Ballinger. I got to stay after school and write on the black board that I was not to put pigtails in ink wells. I got the message. Pig tails were for girls. Ink wells were for writing class.

As fall came along, days got shorter and nights got longer. The sun set over Grimes Pass and a little late evening light remained except where the teacher's hose and garden was. Kids being kids, we could not resist the apple tree and the garden, now with green peas ready for eating. Ne evening we sneaked into the garden and helped ourselves to apples and peas. But we did not take into account that our foot prints were shorter than grownups and grownups did not raid pea patches. We got a good scolding for our garden raids. Since I love crab apples I dined on them until I got a stomach ache. I paid or that with a couple of days out of school.

By the time I had recovered from that episode, hunting season was on. I went on my first hunting trip. I successfully shot a deer and then I found out that is where the fun stops and the work begins. Dad did not get a deer that day so we went out hunting a time or two again before he got a deer. I helped him get the deer home and taken care of for the season. That was the end of hunting, or so I thought. But elk began to move down and dad went out and shot a big elk. He had the fun. I got to share in the work. Dad and Mom canned up the elk meat and we kept the venison for everyday eating. We got one other blessing. Dad did not ever make any more sour kraut.

Thanksgiving came and went, Since we did not have a turkey, we got elk steak. Finally Christmas was upon us. I wrote on this a bit some years back wrote about Christmas in the stix. But for a change, we had electricity. That meant colored lights on the tree. We made the rest of the decorations as Dad had gotten two strings of Christmas lights. Using pictures from old magazines and thread, we made all sorts of things to tie onto the tree branches. Mom made some popcorn so we made strings of that as well. This was our first try at painting pine cones to use for decoration also. We had a glorious time decorating our tree. But Dad cut and mounted some other trees for out in the yard. We decorated those as well. That was one of the best Christmases I can remember. We got new snow boots for Christmas to top off our wonderful season.

Once snow fell, we turned to sledding. We had two choices. One was to sled to school, a distance of about half a mile. We faced uphill part way to school and downhill the rest of the way. As long as we had snow, we chose to do that every school day. It was great fun although the return trip did not get us completely home. But it beat walking the whole way. The road past the school was not plowed so we had clear sailing. We did not have to worry about vehicles along the way. Of course, we had to be careful when we approached the school as the road was plowed to the mail boxes about 100 feet from the school building. Most of the time we had no problems.

The other path was to go up on the road that went over Grimes Pass. It was not plowed either but it made a early sharp curve down low so we never tried to go around the sharp curve but launch at the curve.

Mrs. Gardiner was very strict about us sledding at noon time because that is when the mail stage delivered mail on mail day. We understood and did not make that mistake, except once. The sled and passengers went under the mail stage. Fortunately it had high clearance. The sled went right under the truck and no one got hurt Mrs. Gardiner breaking off a willow switch along Grimes Creek and introducing it to the old backside. It also brought about extra work after school for a week.

By the fall of 1948, we moved to Boise. That ended our stay at Grimes Pass for good. We would go back to Lowman until we graduated from Boise High School in 1955. We had more nonsense but all at Lowman so future articles will be based on Lowman bloopers. We had plenty of those. Stay tuned.

Anne Frank Human Rights Memorial

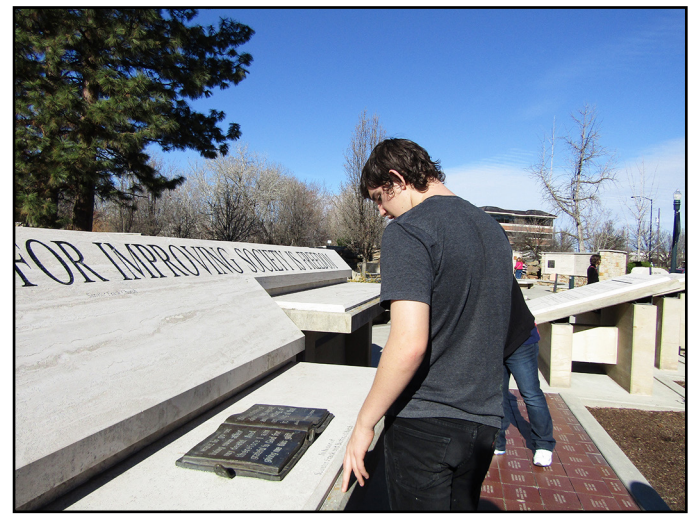

Dear Kitty . . . Countless friends and acquaintances have been taken off to a dreadful fate. Night after night, green and gray military vehicles cruise the streets. They knock on every door, asking whether any Jews live there. If so, the whole family is immediately taken away. If not, they proceed to the next house. It's impossible to escape their clutches unless you go into hiding. They often go around with lists, knocking only on those doors where they know there's a big haul to be made. They frequently offer a bounty, so much per head. It's like the slave hunts of olden days. I don't mean to make light of this; it's much too tragic for that. In the evenings when it's dark, I often see long lines of good, innocent people, accompanied by crying children, walking on and on, ordered by a handful of men who bully and beat them until they nearly drop. No one is spared. The sick, the elderly, children, babies and pregnant women — all are marched to their death. I get frightened myself when I think of close friends who are now at the mercy of the cruelest monsters ever to stalk the earth. And all because they're Jews.

Anne M. Frank,
November 19, 1942

"Kitty" was what Ann called her diary, after a movie she had seen and her fascination with movie stars.

Lisa Keithley, volunteer tour guide for the memorial, explained that there had been 11.5 million people who were "systematically slaughtered." The Idaho City Middle School students have been reading the Diary of Ann Frank.

This portion of the memorial spoke of "your obligations to other people," said tour guide. The Universal Declaration of Human Rights, outlines 30 articles.

Glen is reading a quote: "I want to go on living even after my death! And therefore I am grateful to God for giving me this gift, this possibility of developing myself and of writing, of expressing all that is in me." Anne M. Frank April 4, 1944

BSU Students Offer Spring Break Service

Written by Eileen Capson

Pioneerville -- Each year, a group of Boise State University students have planned a service project to help someone who is either down on their luck, or who just needs a little bit of help. Monty Moreland, leader and organizer of the club, Synergy Campus Ministry, coordinated with Sheriff Jim Kaczmarek to help one of Boise County's original pioneers -- Xinia Jones, 87, from Pioneerville.

When many college students were off partying or sleeping in late, these young adults gave of their time to do some good, over their spring break.

snow year, and not being able to get the weight off of the shed. Together, with about 20 volunteers, this club of students and several experts in building, worked to restore the woodshed, installing new beams from Parma Post & Pole. Franklin Building Supply also kindly offered a discount on supplies towards this service project. The supplies were all purchased by the students and with donations from their various churches, represented by this non-denominational group.

Moreland said, "It was amazing to get to meet Xinia and hear some of her stories." Xinia

Her mother wanted to have the roman numerals "XI" in her name, and she had known a little girl at school with the name "Xinia," which she liked. Xinia Jones thanked the group, many times over, for their kindness in help to restore her woodshed, which she relies so heavily on. Burning wood is still her main source for heat during the wintertime, and it also takes the chill off.

The young ladies also helped clean her home, make repairs, dusted and painted. Students helped stabilize her walking ramp, and even hauled a load of trash to the dump. Moreland said, "It gives me real joy to see how all this came together. Just a few weeks ago, I asked Sheriff Jim Kaczmarek if there was anyone down on their luck who needed some help. He took me to meet Xinia. When I saw the size of the task I knew it would be a really big job." He continued, "I knew our crew was going to be young and limited in experience, so I recruited some resourceful friends to help me with the planning and implementation. Chuck Adams is a mechanical engineer with GE that helped with the design and calculating load for the roof. Brandon Sulik works in roofing and is a very resourceful guy who came to help us figure out how to get the job done right. Besides this big job, the students completed a plethora of jobs to help do

Marchant Held Without Bail In Connection With Murder Case

Bruce Marchant
Courtesy of the Ada County Jail

Boise County -- Bruce Marchant, 61, was arraigned in Boise on April 6th for the kidnapping, rape and murder of 18-year-old Sierra Bush. The body of this missing girl had been found south of Idaho City, in Mores Creek on October 22nd. The defendant had been taken into custody in New York City on December 6th, identified at a VA Hospital as the person who had committed this crime in Idaho. He was recently extradited back to Idaho.

Evidence had been discovered in the suspect's car, which included some notes from Sierra Bush's Boise State University writing class and DNA evidence -- blood found on a pair of leather gloves.

Marchant arrived at his video conference arraignment with Magistrate Judge Theresa Gardunia. He appeared frail with a paper slightly shaking in his hands, sitting slumped in a wheelchair, pushed by an officer. When asked about his income, he stated in a gravelly voice that he had income only through the Veterans Administration. The judge appointed Marchant a public defender, David Smethers, who has also represented Michael Dauber, in one of his murder cases, while in Boise County.

The state's attorney recommended that the defendant be held without bond, stating Marchant "presented a significant risk to the community and we believe he's a flight risk." Judge Gardunia, former prosecuting attorney for Boise County, followed the state's recommendation and ordered that Marchant be held without bail on charges of first-degree murder, rape and kidnapping. A preliminary hearing will be held on April 20th, at 8:30am.

Forest Service Tree Sale

The U.S. Forest Service held a tree sale on April 1st for landowners to "create windbreaks, improve wildlife habitat, and enhance forests on their property." This is quite a successful event and many of the Douglas Fir, 10 inch trees, went very quickly. They were offered at 50 seedlings for $30. This is an annual event and normally includes indigenous shrubs, but they had been used towards reforestation efforts.

Letter to the Editor

2-Forks (Easter Bunny) Bottom-line: The total 2-Forks infrastructure fixed costs come to about $15M. That's $5M for the water treatment facility, $5M for the collection pipe main (10 miles x 5280 feet/mile x $100/foot of pipe installed) and $5M for pipe interconnections between 300 scattered homes and the nearest collection pipe main (10 miles x 5280 feet/mile x $100/foot of pipe installed). Let's assume ALL of this $15M is covered by free money from the government, i.e. Socialism on steroids. To cover the future 2-Forks (TAX-ING) District will have to set aside 2% of the total infrastructure cost to replace said infrastructure over a fifty year period. This is called a good standard business practice. That's $300,000 (.02 x $15M) per year, or $83 per month per customer ($300K/300 customers/12 months). How's that for a monthly tax, and that's just for fixed infrastructure replacement over time? Now let's look at operations and maintenance (O&M) variable costs over time in the future.

Waste water treatment variable costs published as the "National Summary of Sewer Line Maintenance Costs per Mile" include O&M, Labor, Fringe Benefits, Chemicals, Hydro Flush, Television inspection, Preventative Maintenance. These come to about $25,000 dollars per mile of collection pipe per year. As shown above Garden Valley must have about twenty miles to reach 2-Forks' 300 "volunteer" customers. That annual bill comes to half a $million ($500,000), or $1666 ($500K/300 customers) per customer or $139 per month per customer. Add this to the $83 per month fix cost infrastructure replacement set aside and you get a monthly tax bill of $222 going forward in time after a total free-lunch pays for the creation of the $15M collection and treatment infrastructure.

Do you think there will NOT be intense political pressure levied on politicians to put the screws to EPA and/or DEQ to get more customers connected whether they want to or not? Be honest! What are the opportunities to double the subscription rate to 600 customers and reduce the monthly tax to just $110? Well, current statistics say there are just 1468 (down by 17.5% since 2000) GV residents with 2.25 persons per household. That makes 652 households (1468 persons/2.25 persons per household). Clearly, 2-Forks feel they can induce an additional 300 customers to come on board to cut the monthly tax in half.

If these rough order of magnitude (ROM) costs are incorrect, let someone correct the public record.

DISPATCHERS' WEEK FOR THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE

911 Dispatchers, Some of the Most Important People You Will Never See

Written by Sheriff Jim Kaczmarek

While there are many visible functions of the Sheriff's Office in Boise County and other law enforcement agencies across the nation, one of the often overlooked, and always underappreciated functions within the office is the 911 dispatch center.

While a patrol deputy gets to respond firsthand to each of the emergencies and calls to service, gets to see the flames of a forest fire, the response to an emergency with lights flashing, the face of parents reunited with a lost child, the change from a frantic, angry, upset, panicked (insert any number of imaginable emotions / reactions) to the calm and thankful member of the public, or the satisfaction of a project seen to completion, be it in court or resulting in whatever outcome, the dispatcher never gets to experience any of this.

They sit in a darkened roomed, lit by a multitude of computer screens with an amount and complexity of functions that would intimidate a seasoned fighter pilot. Dispatchers have to take phone calls ranging from the ridiculous to the tragic and massively urgent, all the while remaining the calming voice of reason. They have to deal with panicked citizens as loved ones, be it children, parents or friends are hurt and they wait the extended amounts of time for fire, emergency medical technicians or law enforcement, to respond to in our county. They have to talk to cranky law enforcement officers, tired fire fighters and intoxicated citizens. They have to answer each of these calls simultaneously while also answering the innocuous calls for the mundane, and maintain the same demeanor of calm and professionalism.

While each of these phone calls are happening, our dispatchers are also answering the radio calls for officers from a minimum of six law enforcement agencies, both state and federal, dispatching all eight of our volunteer fire departments and all of it on twelve mountain top repeaters. All of the repeaters have to be monitored individually, each repeater switched to individually and each officer responded to on the corresponding repeater. Each call's information is captured and recorded in a computer aided dispatch system and then routed appropriately, be it fire, ambulance or law enforcement. Dispatch also handles arrest warrant entry as well as no contact orders and protection orders. Each of these documents have to be entered into a national system and dispatch is the contact for every other law enforcement agency in the nation in reference to each of the documents entered into the system.

Often as not, each of the incidents, be it on the phone, the radio or a deputy rushing into the dispatch center itself, can all be life and death situations. The amount of competence required to gather and distribute all of the information needed for each incident, let alone multiple incidents in a day, is staggering. One mistake and people can die, property can be lost and officers can be further endangered. Dispatchers have to interview and glean information from panicked people, translate it into something sensible, and relay it to officers that have a thousand questions that there is no way the dispatcher can answer. They have to be able to run criminal background checks, check driver's licenses, warrants, license plates and social media intelligence all at once. They have to be able to be a weather prognosticator, psychologist, priest, counselor, lawyer, teacher and secretary to everyone involved on a daily basis. All the while not missing a single detail.

Our Boise County dispatchers do all of this, twenty four hours a day, seven days a week, missing weekends, holidays, days in general, family events and functions, and company in general as they can, and often do, work entire shifts without seeing anyone but the next dispatcher coming in to relieve them of their shift. All of this only so they can come back less than twelve hours later to do it all over again.

Given the enormity of the public safety systems, training, personnel and equipment that is reliant on our dispatchers, coupled with the lack of recognition and appreciation for a literally unrecognized position, please join me in thanking our amazing dispatchers in Boise County for their service and in recognition of all public telecommunications experts during this week of National Public Safety Telecommunications week.

The Principal balance is $10,055.31, the current interest rate is 8% per annum, as of March 13, 2017.

BOISE COUNTY

STAND UP FOR CHILDREN & PREVENT CHILD ABUSE

Idaho State Capital 3rd Annual Child Abuse Prevention Rally, 2017.

Photos by E. Capson

Written by Eileen Capson

Boise County -- The 3rd annual Child Abuse Prevention Rally was held on April 6th on the steps of the capital building. Many folks came out to support this endeavor. There were several schools represented, including Idaho City's High School Juniors and Seniors. Speakers spoke on prevention and a proclamation from the governor was read.

St. Lukes Hospital saw approximately 1,300 at risk kids in 2016. Their ages ranged from infancy to adolescence. It was said, at the rally, that as many as 1 in 10 children suffer from abuse, but only 1 in 3 are ever identified. Speakers encouraged the community to be aware, have children establish a buddy system, be keenly aware of internet predators and to "stand up against child abuse."

Ada County's Sheriff, Steve Bartlett, said children should not have to live in fear. He encouraged the public, "If you see something, say something." He added that it's about keeping our smallest citizens safe, to have a secure childhood, "full of whimsy and hope."

Children from four different schools stood holding signs and balloons on the capital's steps. The rain stayed at bay, during the whole of the rally. At the conclusion of the event, hundreds of blue balloons were released into the air, each representing a child who had been seen in their clinic. Molly Kaczmarek, organizer with C.A.R.E.S., spoke to the crowd, resounding a commitment, "Together we can stop child abuse in Idaho!"

PROSECUTOR'S CORNER

by Dan Blocksom

Dear Boise County community,

I'm writing this to apologize to all of you as well as to the Board of Boise County Commissioners regarding the problems that arose from the appointment of Mr. Bergey to the Planning and Zoning Commission. The Board asked me in a timely manner to research the legality of appointing Mr. Bergey. My research led me to believe that potential conflict issues could be overcome by recusal by Mr. Bergey. The Board relied on my legal advice and appointed Mr. Bergey. I failed to look into the Idaho Administrative Rules which contain the ethics rules for surveyors, which would have changed the legal advice that I gave the Board. The error in this appointment process was mine, not the Board's. I strive to be thorough in my research and legal advice but I apparently wasn't thorough enough in this instance. I'm thankful for Mr. Bergey's graciousness as well as for Ms. Williams thoroughness in bringing the applicable regulations to the county's attention. I'm very sorry for this mistake, and I will continue to be as thorough as possible.

Best,
Dan Blocksom
