CuMo Presentation in Garden Valley Highlights a Long-Term Partnership

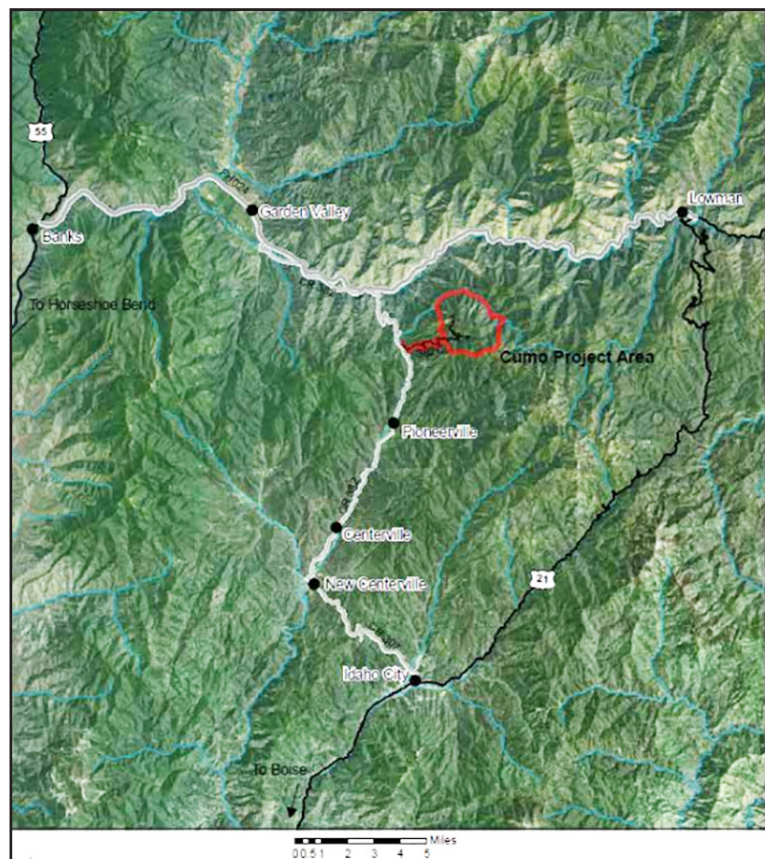

Written by Janet Juroch
BOISE COUNTY -- A recent presentation of Idaho CuMo Mining Corporation (ICMC) at the Crouch Community Hall was attended by community members wanting to be informed about the project and ask questions of the staff. Some attendees were newcomers who are just learning about a proposed mine in the county. Others follow the project updates.

ICMC is the wholly-owned subsidiary of American CuMo Mining Corporation, a Canadian natural resource exploration and development company. CuMo regularly has presentations to keep the communities who will be impacted by the mine, informed on the news and project updates. Questions and answers were part of the program after a fundraiser dinner was catered by the Garden Valley Senior Center.

A PowerPoint presentation was shown and different CuMo representatives spoke about different aspects of the project, from scientific to financial, environmental to economic concerns. The project is in the developmental and explorative stage. Every decision must meet a high level of criteria. The project is a big investment and ICMC wants to make sure the communities receive regular updates through the various platforms of the website, social media, face-to-face presentations and other media news.

ICMC representatives spoke about the long-term commitment with the surrounding communities. A quote from their websites sums it up: This lifecycle approach to business aims to leave a net positive imprint or, at the very least, a neutral impact on the geographic areas and lives touched by each of its projects. The company is committed to renewed production of minerals and the responsible development of natural resources by using regulatory and cost-benefit analysis tools to achieve balance on economic, environmental and social bottom lines.

The difference between historic mining and modern mining is sustainability. "So if it's socio-economic if it's environmental, if it's infrastructure, it all goes into a sustainable project," says Noelle Laury, Vice President of Public Relations

CuMo Mining Map showing location of the project in relation to the local towns. Submitted by Idaho CuMo Mining Corp and Corporate Communication at Idaho CuMo Mining Corporation. She added, "There are five phases to any mining project. Currently they are in the Exploration phase. So, currently, just to reiterate, we are in advanced exploration. We get questions all the time [regarding] when are the jobs coming or when is development in the County." That decision and research is still down the road. Laury explained that as a "junior mining company", evenually they will partner with larger production companies to actually put the mine into development. That will not happen in the pre-feasibility phase.

Sean Dykes, CEO of American CuMo Mining Corporation and President of Idaho CuMo Mining Corporation, explained the science of Moly and how important it is to the US. Production costs can be very high and high risk to investors. The

WEST BOISE COUNTYCity Council Meeting in HSB

Written by Tracy Koslosky
HORSESHOE BEND --

The following is a synopsis of the Horseshoe Bend City Council's 656th meeting on October 17, 2018. With Horseshoe Bend mayor, Pat Goff, not in attendance, council member Teresa Cooper called the meeting to order at 7:00 p.m. After the call to order, Pledge of Allegiance, the council's approval of the agenda, previous minutes from the city's 355th meeting on September 18, and the agreement to pay the city's bills, council member Cooper opened the new business portion of the agenda. The council took under consideration the approval of a new contract by Cascade Refrigeration, Inc. to maintain and inspect all heating and cooling appliances located at city owned properties. The contract was approved unanimously by the council for a term of 1 year. With Mayor Goff absent, newly re-certified

EMT Michele Brothers gave the EMS update reporting that there had been 5 runs during the previous month. Brothers went on to say that a minor issue with the city's ambulance had occurred but has since been repaired. Council member Ryan Stirm announced that he was a newly licensed EMT. Brothers then began speaking on behalf of the city's public works department, reporting that the river flow went down 2 1/2 weeks ago. She added that all three water tanks, which are cleaned every 5 years, were recently cleaned and found to have less than 1/4 inch of sediment in them which according to Brothers is "very good". The report from public works included information that they are currently getting ready for winter, with Brothers stating that they are "just continuing doing what we can do." Brothers had no additional information regarding the new wooden dam barriers being installed in the Horseshoe Bend hydroelectric facility. The city's civil engineering report was made by Amy Woodruff who informed the council that the owners of the Horseshoe Bend hydroelectric facility, Innergex Renewable Energy, Inc., had gone through the appropriate channels to obtain permits to install the new wooden dam in the Payette River adjacent to the city. Council member Stirm mentioned his concern regarding the treatment that the wood had prior to being placed in the river. Woodruff assured the council that "the treat is an allowable product to be used in a body of water." Stirm reiterated his trouble with the wooden barriers, citing his understanding of how wooden fence posts are treated. He told the council, "My concern is I don't know how much copper they put in it. The copper level is high enough to keep bugs off, I think we should be knowledgeable of what is going in our drinking water source. We have to protect ourselves." Public works employee, Jobie Catherman, interjected by telling the council that the water barriers "received a different treatment than what is used on fence posts." Stirm went on to suggest that water samples be taken on a regular basis to make certain that no contaminants were leaching into the city's water supply. The floor was then opened for public comments. Boise real estate agent, Doris Barker, asked to speak on behalf of her client, Horseshoe Bend resident Chantal Grant. Grant came before the council during last month meeting to ask that a property she would like to purchase be rezoned to allow for mortgage funding. Baker told the council that Grant needed the property, located in the city on Highway 55, to be zoned residential to allow her client to get bank funding. Barker was advised that the current property owner, Vickie Davis, needed to submit the proper paperwork to the city with very specific wording regarding the complete nature of the request. At 7:16 p.m. the council moved into executive session regarding agenda item IC 74-206-1 appendix f, concerning Idaho Transportation Department's (ITD) right of way request, reconvening at 7:32 p.m. The council voted unanimously to authorize Mayor Goff to transfer city property identified by ITD to ITD in a right of way contract. The meeting adjourned at 7:34 p.m. The council will meet next on Wednesday, October 21 at 7:00 p.m.

Garden Valley Senior & Social Center News

By Janet Juroch

Monthly dinners are a successful part of the Garden Valley Senior Center. Once again, the ladies and gentlemen of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints came and provided a wonderful dinner of roast beef and all the trimmings, including dessert. Who can resist a cheesecake? Many thanks go to the volunteers who made October's dinner a fabulous event! These people worked all day to watch a dinner be consumed in less than an hour.

If you enjoy these dinners a little too much, plan on coming in on Wednesdays at 6:00pm to enjoy a fun hour of exercise and lots of laughs at the Center. There is a variety of specialty tapes to lead everyone, experienced or not, through dance and aerobic moves. The idea is to keep moving at whatever level works best for you. I have reportedly heard that often the belly gets the best workout from laughing and having a good time.

Friday evenings are still a big social event from 5:30 to 7:30pm at the Center. Bring a snack and any beverage of your choice. New friends are being made every week. Time to socialize is a way to let the week of busy days just melt away. This Friday the group will be setting off for a wine tour through wine country with a full day of wine tasting. A couple of restaurants are also on the list to bookend the day. Contact John Cottingham at 462-3178 if you want to join in. He has the information on this tour.

Meals on Wheels and BINGO are still going through the paperwork but are very close to finalizing. BINGO needs to purchase equipment that are approved by the State Lottery Commission. With November and December being busy months for everyone, the BINGO may wait until the new year to start up and create a schedule. This will give time for getting the equipment.

Granny's Closet has so many fun costumes for the kiddos and adults. Low cost dress up time is the way to go. Costumes are clean and ready to go before Saturday's Trunk or Treat event in town. If you are interested in decorating your trunk to pass out candy, there are many different items that could be used to create the best ghoulish trunk and maybe even with the contest sponsored by the Garden Valley Chamber of Commerce. The ideas are endless at Granny's Closet.

Plan for some fun, early Christmas shopping from local vendors and crafters on November 3rd. Christmas is only two months away and time goes so fast, so prepare early. Many items will also be Christmas themed at Granny's Closet by November. It will be a great day of shopping under one roof. Save the Date!

Time to sit for a spell, have a coffin break with my ghoulfriends and make some bootiful, haunting items from Granny's Closet. Remember to have a frightfully spooky Halloween in town.

GVP TRIVIA...The answer to last week's question was: Tami Smith. While she and her family were in Honduras to celebrate her parents 50th anniversary, she was "smitten" and kissed by a dolphin while on one of their excursions!

Here is the list of the Agents & Staff at GVP: Diane Caughlin, Owner/Founder Director of Marketing; Jim Jardine-Broker; Julie Leslie-Realtor; Hannah Mitchell-VP Marketing; Liz Pabst-Administrative Assistant; Toni Palmiotto-Associate Broker/GRI; Marissa Sevilla-Realtor; Tami Smith-Office Manager; Kathy Vaughan-Associate Broker/GRI. Extension Educator's Corner: The Power of Volunteerism

By Rebecca Mills

By Rebecca Mills, University of Idaho Extension Educator, Gem and Boise counties

We've made it to the end of October and my month-long focus on the 4-H program. I think I've saved the best part for last. What's the final piece of the 4-H puzzle? We started with the history, added the structure of clubs and other program offerings, mixed in the kids, and finally we'll add: the power of volunteers.

I want you to think for a moment about the impact of volunteerism in your life. Did you have a coach or mentor that helped shape your view of the world? Have you had the opportunity to join in a cause that provided support or inspiration to others? Think for a moment, in particular, of how your life might be different had it not been for the positive influence of caring adults in your younger years.

A major hallmark of the 4-H program is the intentional structure of youth engaging with adult volunteers, or even older youth, outside of their own family structures. Research shows that a major indicator of resilience in young people is the presence of "at least one stable and committed relationship with a supportive adult." (<https://www.gse.harvard.edu/news/uk/15/03/science-resilience>)

What exactly does being a supportive adult look like in 4-H? A quick browse of the Volunteerism page on the University of Idaho Extension 4-H Youth Development website (<https://www.uidaho.edu/extension/4h/volunteers>) shows at least nine different ways individuals can become involved in the work of growing resilient youth. Roles range in time commitment and involvement. You could lead a one-time or series-long class on a topic that interests you, judge contests, manage a club, host 4-Hers or their chaperones during exchanges, be a chaperone on an exchange trip, help with fundraising, be a certified shooting sports instructor, or work with youth of military families.

Another part of the power of volunteerism is that the benefits are not only for the youth; the adult volunteers benefit as well. There are opportunities for travel, leadership development, job skill development and training, and network building. Just as the youth are "learning by doing" in their 4-H projects, adults can learn and experience new things right along with them.

In the 4-H program we take youth protection seriously and consider it a top priority. That's why all volunteers who work with youth go through a screening process before they are allowed to serve in a 4-H capacity. Our screening process includes a background check, references, an interview, and a structured orientation and training. Serving as a 4-H volunteer is considered a privilege; a certification of a high expectation of honor and duty. Volunteers sign a code of conduct, signifying they commit to act as a role model for youth and hold themselves to high standards of behavior.

The fact is, the 4-H program wouldn't exist without volunteers and the value that a volunteer brings to a 4-H program can't be measured in dollars or hours. We try to measure it that way, but you and I both know that the real value goes back to youth resiliency and the lives changed along the way.

I'd love to hear your "because of a volunteer..." story or visit about ways you're interested in making a difference in the lives of youth in Boise County. I'm excited for the new 4-H year ahead as we work together to expand the impact of 4-H in this area.

project of sorting and knowing what is coming out of core samples ultimately is what determines the cost. If the mine can produce at a low rate cost, then the mine is sustainable even during economic downturns.

Waste rock will go back into the hole from the mine after the metal is removed. Strict adherence to a certain distance from any water sources is followed. No contaminants are allowed to go into any water. Tailings can be reclaimed. Molybdenum is a product that will see many uses, like making batteries for electric cars charge in four minutes and go 500 miles on a single charge. Moly can help in building smaller electronic circuitry. The steel could help the world with clean drinking water processing. The Military has uses for their aircrafts and protection. Dykes explained that "thousands of scientists worldwide are playing in the kitchen mixing up different things" to determine all the uses for molybdenum.

The issue of transportation was talked about, since there are few roads in the county. A gondola system to transport workers was one idea. One could run from the mine to Horseshoe Bend. Road safety is a concern. They will continue studies of how to move products and people so that county roads are not compromised.

Other concerns involved what would happen after the mine closes down. Reclamation of the mine could turn it into a recreational lake. Another plan is for the pit to get filled back up. Soil and trees would be planted to make the area look like it did before.

Lisa Anderson, Vice President of Government Relations at Idaho CuMo Mining Corporation, said, "Our elected officials need to hear from you whether you agree with the project you are supporting or not supporting it." She explained that their goal is to have a source of employment that is sustainable and work that in partnership with the people in the community. Check out the website at <https://idahocumo.com/>

Opinion: Letters to the Editor

If anyone wants to dissolve the Garden Valley Hospital District based on grudges and conflicts with the medical doctor, then go for it. But realistically, maybe it is worth giving the new Board a chance. It appears that they are working with the local Clinic and doctor to bring back some of the medical subsidy services for the community. I was a recipient of the clinic's sliding scale at one point in my life. I don't need it now, but I see where anyone at anytime might need help or even home health oversight.

Take a look at some of the things we get when we vote to keep the district. Subsidies are based on income levels and many need this service locally. There are people who want to stay in their homes here in the mountains and need home health services here. The clinic can be open to more patients and work with more insurances, again. If you have relatives visiting and someone gets sick, they can go to the local clinic, instead of making the long trip to Boise.

I have some friends who got emails from a disgruntled past Board member. I saw what was said in encouraging a dissolution, dredging up past email discussions to be on display. The past Board had trouble working with the current clinic and doctor but now that is in the past. It is time to look and move forward.

I say we give the GVHTD Board a chance. Let's see what happens. This vote can be brought up again in the future if the Board become dysfunctional. For now, why take away a good thing from this community and go backwards?

Dissolving the District takes away any chance for good programs to begin again in our community. The amount of tax cost is not significant for what the District gets. There is a lot to lose by a dissolution. Vote to keep the GVHTD. Say NO to the dissolution, if not for you at least for your neighbors in this District who might need subsidy help and a functioning clinic.

Went driving down a forest service road on Friday and found a ugly orange gate blocking it. I can see where the forest service can gate off some roads to the public for whatever reason and I can see you can put up no trespassing signs on your own land. But to block a federal road??? Now to me if I went out and blocked a federal road the feds would be on it in a minute. Why? Cause I have no money but if I am a Billionaire the rules are different. Now as a side note the land in question borders a Fire Protection District and if there was a fire on that land the first responders would not be able to do anything and it would be left to burn and grow. Must be they do not have fires in Texas.

I have some nagging concerns about the CUMO Project. I have listened to many explanations of this project, from several different viewpoints, and my concerns have not been addressed.

1. The promised jobs do not appear to be as numerous as the hype indicates. In several job searches performed by me, I found most jobs in the mining industry require either highly skilled or specially trained people. Many are strenuous, physically demanding jobs. Where will all these people come from? I find it difficult to envision 5000 people from Boise County being willing or able to fill these positions since the total population of the county in 2015 was 7058.

2. There has been a lot of talk about the mine site being many miles from the Boise River. I have not seen any discussion of the proximity to several other important waterways, including the Payette River, Grimes Creek and Elk Creek. The Payette River is the source of water for Horseshoe Bend, as well as an important recreational waterway. If one considers that Grimes Creek feeds Mores Creek, which feeds the Boise River, a potential impact on the Boise water supply seems much closer than described. Elk Creek is the water supply for Idaho City. In a study by

The International Commission On Large Dams, the following was published:

Tailing dam failures 1915 to 2016 Total failures=209; 1-.5% due to building on former mine site; 44-22% water flowing over dam; 16-8% structural of design errors; 15-7.5% inadequate foundation; 30-15% Slope instability, deformation or saturation of dam; 7-3.5% Erosion of exterior face; 17-8.5% Seepage or internal erosion; 27-13.5% Earthquake; 52-27.5% Unknown

I believe this is an unacceptable risk. For more information, go to the following websites: <https://www.idahorivers.org/newsroom/2018/1/10/cumo-mine-exploration-proposal-raises-lots-of-questions-and-concerns-for-downstream-residents> or <https://www.idahoconservation.org/blog/cumo-mine-rescoping-2018/>

3. In a recent public information session, it was claimed that the 'tailings' contain several elements and minerals that are natural fertilizers, specifically; rhenium, tungsten and manganite. I have attempted to verify these claims without success. Additionally, I have not seen any disclosure of the plans of CUMO, regarding the storage and containment of the tailings.

SOUTH FORK OF THE PAYETTE RIVER RUSSEL CREEK TO GALLAGHER CREEK

WRITTEN BY JERRY BRANSON ~ HISTORIAN

The families who lived from Russell Creek and east to Gallagher Creek began with the patented land of James C. Carter. The Rane family was the beginning of those who lived in that area. But the first Rane family is impossible to track. Louis Rane was born on Allegheny, Pennsylvania in 1866. He married Ida Bunch in Boise in 1894. They claimed at that wedding, according to the Idaho World newspaper, that they had been previously married in 1890 in Walla Walla, Washington. They had a two year old son with them, indeed born in Walla Walla, Washington as that was recorded there. They would go on to live in the Garden Valley area upon their marriage. But there is no evidence of them having any property anywhere in the area. No record of a wedding appears in court records in Walla Walla County, Washington. Apparently only the Carpentiers paid taxes until their land was approved for a homestead. I have learned from Boise County records that not everything that should have been recorded did get recorded. Boise County tax assessments are missing for those years. Therefore no listing of any property is available for anyone named Rane from 1896 to 1898 when records end. In fact, few records of any land holdings in the Garden Valley area exist at all. Nellie Ireton Mills has no data on the Rane family, either.

Louis Rane left on a trip to what was then Allegheny, now Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in October 1898. He never returned. There are claims that he died there. But no cemeteries list him and he was no longer mentioned in census data by 1900 or later. No information exists on where the Raness lived except that Ida was a Bunch family member. Census records indicate she and her kids lived with the Bunch family after she filed for divorce in 1905. The Bunch property still has several more buildings besides a house and barn. They moved to the Hopkins place in 1908 when Ida married William Hoplins. Hopkins' homestead is just east of the Carter place on Hopkins Creek and across from what was then called, Grimes Pass and Wharton electric power dam on the Payette River. Grimes Pass is on top of the ridge line between the Payette River and Grimes Creek. George Grimes is buried there. This can be very confusing. Hopkins' property has no record of an HES designation, however. The lack of records thus diminishes any enough real factual data to provide any clear cut factual history of the lives of Louis and Ida Rane.

But the area is not void of plenty of Raness. The Louis Raness had four children, Elmer in 1902, August in 1897, Anne in 1898 and Elizabeth in April, 1899. Time wise, Ida was pregnant with Elizabeth when Louis left for Pennsylvania. August lived at the old Carter place in 1904 when he married Beatrice Adair. There have been a number of Adairs in the county, notably in Charlotte Gulch. Presently a Don Adair owns land just east of the old Golden Age mine on Grimes Creek. I know him personally and have gone on his geological field trips. But records do not show any connection among the several Adair families.

August and Beatrice had four boys and no girls. George is deceased, Dan lived in Kingston, Rhode Island and Tom and Bill lived in Albuquerque, New Mexico at the time of August's death on January 30, 1993. Beatrice died on May 25, 1985. She and August are buried in Emmett.

Just west of the Wharton Dam property was the home of Joseph Hessler. He was granted his HES 405 on July 28, 1917. He died on November 9, 1917. No mention of the burial location, but likely Garden Valley.

Just above the dam on the north side of the Payette River was the home of William J. Hopkins at Hopkins Creek. He had moved to the Payette River in 1885. There is no record of an HES for his property. He was born in Michigan in 1866. He died at his ranch on June 1, 1944. He is buried in Garden Valley, as is his wife, Ida, March 9, 1934. There is no record of Hopkins having more wives than Ida.

While Hopkins had a ranch at Hopkins Creek, he was a miner. He worked at the Graham mine on the North Fork of the Boise River in the late 1880's and later at the Black Horse mine west of Ketchum, Idaho. He built a log cabin at Big Meadows in the Sawtooth Wilderness area sometime around 1890. He apparently told a friend, James Avery, a transient, about the cabin as Avery went to the cabin and died there and was found in 1905 by Herman Meyer and Peter Rood. He was at first nailed up in the cabin, but was then buried outside the cabin. There is no visible grave marker. A sign stating "Dead Man's Cabin" exists at the old cabin site. After several searches I could find no evidence of any sort of mining activity in the vicinity of the cabin. Perhaps the cabin was a stop-over place or was used for trapping purposes by Hopkins as he was credited with building the cabin by Meyer and Rood.

Next up the river on the east side was the ranch of John H. Rae, on the south side of the Payette River across from Hopkins on HES 404. He left Garden Valley after a short stay. He was not listed in the 1920 census.

Next up the Payette River on the west side was the homestead of Selwyn B. West at Whiskey Creek, which was HES 406. West was gone by 1920. A Charles West lived at Lowman but no connection has been found. A daughter of William J. Hopkins lived in Butte, Montana at the time of Hopkins' death.

Across the Payette River on the southeast side was Anderson L. Adams at HES 249 between Dodge Creek and Rae Creek. He sold out to the Dodge family, who did not stay long themselves. A later article will appear on the Dodge family who soon moved to Grimes Creek about 200 yards above the old Diana school and went from ranching to mining. We spent several hours with Dorothy Morton Dodge going over the property.

Above West was the homestead of Sherman Barker, known as HES 407, located on the north side of the Payette River where the boat launch now exists. There was a restaurant there for many years that had excellent food.

At last we get to Gallagher Creek. On the west side was the CCC camp, which was in a recent edition of the Idaho World.

Across Gallagher Creek on the north side and opposite the CCC camp was the small ranch of George Russell. He apparently never patented the land. It may not have been large enough as the minimum parcel was 5 acres.

The last homestead was HES 335 of D. Helen Yeager. It is on the south side of the Payette River across from Gallagher Creek. Helen was a Calderwood who married a man named Yeager and moved to Spokane, Washington. She soon divorced and moved to Lowman and was named for Helende Creek just west of five Mile Creek on the northwest side of the Payette River by USFS ranger Andy Casner.

The Barber family lived first on Alder Creek, no particular location specified. They moved to the land across the Payette River from Gallagher Creek and bought out the Harrisons who first developed the property. It was not patented until Helen Yeager did so, according to Nellie Ireton Mills in 1863. The Barbers then moved to Lewiston and remained there.

Opinion: GV Hospital District Board

By Barbara Boyer-Baker
GARDEN VALLEY -- Recently, I was forwarded a copy of an email being circulated from a prior member of the Garden Valley Hospital District Board. I was shocked at the inaccuracy of the picture she attempted to paint with outdated information, incorrect data and horrible allegations against people she does not even know. I wavered in deciding how to respond or even if I should, but this topic is too important to this community.

I have personally been afforded the opportunity to sort through volumes of GVHTD paperwork since it was so abruptly deposited in my dining room. I have never witnessed such an unprofessional transfer of vital documents, history or power in my life. But by sorting and organizing, it became very apparent that this battle between some of the PAST board members and the clinic had become personal. And instead of stepping down, they began to destroy the relationship between the clinic and the remaining board members. Emails were improper and unethical to the point that they were hand picking replacements for open positions because they "think like we do" and therefore would "be a good fit".

I am actually amazed that it took Dr. Mike Koenig so long to take issue with the allegations made against him by the board of theft, control, refusal to provide reports etc. etc. etc. But that, month after month, the clinic was not included on the agenda. Even after members of the board would request that Rosemary attend the meeting with a report. She would show up anyway with report in hand, and they would amend the agenda. Month after month, this occurred and it always appeared to be a last minute issue when actually it was not at all.

Dr. Mike and Rosemary Koenig chose to come to this community while turning down other more lucrative offers to become a vital part and to fill a great need. We trusted that the old board had our best interests at heart and supported the clinic and the Koenig family that many of us came to love and trust, but instead they hurled insults and allegations. It was no wonder that the relationship was severed and that many of us (including me) signed the petition to dissolve the board.

I attended meetings where members of the public begged and pleaded for the board to step down and to let others possibly resolve the issues at hand. Not pointing fingers, but just trying to find resolution and a future with the clinic and much needed medical services to this community.

I have known of people not being able to remain in this community due to the lack of medical services and I personally blame the prior board. Which now in arrogance admits that they don't need the services and others that do can find other options. Some don't have cars or even gas money to drive to Boise for care. Or those who can't afford monthly medications. Now we have the opportunity to make this right, to have a reset with the new board and RE-ESTABLISH a contract with the Garden Valley Family Medicine clinic so that services can be restored. But the old board now wants to see the district dissolved out of spite, it would seem.

Many are upset that some of the programs were no longer funded. Not that we didn't want teen programs or health clinics, we just wanted them to be done right, by qualified persons, with proper rules and reporting requirements for those having contact with our vulnerable youth. To protect them and ensure that those needing help received it. That there was accountability for programs that were reported being done but not even started, that movies being shown were appropriate, that strangers being allowed access to your children were not predators. Things that every parent should want for ANY program their child is involved in, regardless whether community, school, or church based.

The mass resignation was meant to cripple the taxing district and this community but instead a few good people stepped up and have worked very hard to restore medical services. They have been successful in seating a replacement board, of confirming the appointments made with the Board of County Commissioners and ratifying decisions. They have reached out to Dr. Mike Koenig and are currently working on a contract, should the vote be one to NOT dissolve the district. So that immediately following the election, medical services can be restored directly.

Since other attempts have failed, now some members of the prior board are trying to spread vicious lies and more allegations like:

Dr. Mike wants all the money... No he does not, just payment for services provided. The new contract is structured with reimbursements for services provided. Estimated cost to be around $105,000 per year.

Dr. Mike gave himself a raise... No he did not. But he sure as hell deserves one.

There were no clinic reports or attendance of meetings. This was addressed above and again it is the duty of the board to make the agenda. Again and again Rosemary would show up and the cycle would repeat. And what does that say about you as a board, giving out all that money without documentation or verification if this was a true alleged violation?

I am from California and want to change everything.. No, I am a product of Idaho and have actually served the Idaho public for 34 years before retiring.

That my husband is from California. Guess you haven't heard him say Y'all and "I'm fixin' to".

That somehow we are paying for a tree farm. Not even sure we are paying for the services received by this community. Do you really assume you know how much it takes to operate a clinic, purchase supplies, pay employees, benefits and insurance? WOW!

That medical equipment has been stolen by the clinic. Seriously??? I am surprised someone has not filed a slander lawsuit against you people.

And I could go on and on... I have been silent for months but now I am ANGRY. Angry that a few people in this community are doing whatever they can to make things hard. Hard on the clinic, hard on the new board members who are doing everything right, and especially hard on people needing medical services, including home health. How dare you tell someone who is home bound and dying to "find alternate services".

I implore all members of this community to get out and VOTE. Show everyone a side of this community that we know and love.. One that is caring and who watches out for our neighbors and the reason most of us moved here to begin with. It could very well be you or me who needs home health services or prorated medications. It is a minimal price to pay for our peace of mind. Vote AGAINST the dissolution of the district.

Respectfully submitted,
Barbara Boyer-Baker

Payette Forward Thrift Shop

Submitted by Ruth Richter GARDEN VALLEY -- After four months of tremendous activity at Payette Forward Thrift Shop in Crouch and 16-20 volunteers giving many, many hundreds of hours week after week, it was time to acknowledge everyone and let each of them know how very much they are appreciated. After working all day on a Monday, we loaded up our cars and headed to Lowman, to the Southfork Lodge. It was a beautiful fall drive over there, lots of camaraderie over our dinner, great burgers, salads and other sandwiches all around for the crowd and, amazingly, some of them seemingly still had room for some dessert. As you can see from the photo, a good time was had by all, and they should be acknowledged for the extremely hard work they do. BUT of course, we'd also want you to know that we're all laughing and chatting while there, and we particularly enjoy interacting with any customers who decide to brave our work day and browse around too. Our latest request gave Ruth

Reclamation & IWRB Host Boise River Basin Feasibility Study Open House

BOISE COUNTY – The Bureau of Reclamation (Reclamation) and the Idaho Water Resource Board (IWRB) will host an open house on Thursday, November 8, 2018, to share early-stage information about a feasibility study for increasing water storage capacity within the Boise River system, particularly at Anderson Ranch Dam.

The open house will be held at the Wyndham Garden Inn Boise Airport, located at 3300 S. Vista Avenue in Boise, Idaho, from 6:00 to 7:30 pm. A short introductory presentation will begin promptly at 6:00 pm.

Additional capacity could enable storage of more runoff in high water years such as 2017, enhancing long-term water supply for critical irrigation, domestic, industrial, and municipal needs while continuing to meet endangered species and power generation needs. It could potentially provide greater flood risk protection as well.

"Reclamation has placed a high priority on enhancing our infrastructure, and we're delighted to partner with the state to meet critical water supply needs," said Reclamation's Snake River Area Manager Roland Springer.

IWRB has committed to fund up to $3M as the 50-percent, non-federal cost share partner. IWRB was created by the Idaho Legislature and is responsible for the formulation and implementation of a state water plan, finance of water projects, and the operation of programs that support sustainable management of Idaho's water resources.

"With support from Idaho's Governor and Legislature, the IWRB is focused on managing available water supply and addressing aquifer declines state wide, including in the Treasure Valley and Mountain Home aquifer," said Roger Chase, Chairman of the IWRB. "Given the growth anticipated in the Treasure Valley, additional surface water storage may be required to offset aquifer declines and meet future water needs."

The study is expected to be completed in 2020.

Invitation from the Garden Valley School District Superintendent ~ Supplemental Levy & Plant Facility Levy Committee

GARDEN VALLEY SCHOOL DISTRICT -- We want your participation!

The school district is ready to discuss the necessary renewal of our supplemental levy that has been supported the past two years. With the new construction in Boise County, property taxes per owner will be going down. With that being said, we think we could run the supplemental levy along with a plant facility levy and the homeowner would not pay more in property taxes than they have in the past. Our school is now 10 years old and there are some repairs and updates that need to be made. They are larger cost items than can be included in the regular annual budget. We are asking for school district patrons, students, home and business owners to step forward to be on our planning committee. There is not a maximum number for community members. The more members, the better! We want as many voices heard and all opinions shared to make sure we make a plan for a levy or levies that can be supported.

If you are interested in being a member on our committee, please respond by October 30th.

Locally sheep will run through the forest lands to eat foliage and this helps keep the fire potential at a minimum. The sheep and the dogs are managed by sheep herders and can be seen all over Garden Valley from time to time. Photo credit: Linda Ruppel, DDS
