Tragic Youth Drowning on the Payette

Written by Jeff Wright

LOWMAN -- In the last six weeks, there's been three tragic drowning accidents and one near-drowning. The latest occurred last Wednesday, in the evening of August 14th on the South Fork of the Payette, near Lowman Ponds.

Most tragically, the latest victim was just 10-years old and had relatives and ties in the Lowman area.

Maximus Samuel Hansen was kayaking with family members on the upper South Fork about 300 yards upriver from the bridge at Lowman Ponds. It was a peaceful, quiet evening and the river was mostly calm with the water flowing languidly around the bend at late-summer flow. The Kayakers had put in a ways above and were going to take-out around Lowman ponds.

Unknown to the kayakers, a green tree had recently fallen into the river at the bend. In trying to avoid it, Maximus went into the river and the swirl of the current must have drawn him back in and under the tree where, even with his life jacket, the current was too strong. He was trapped. Family members were unable to get to him immediately to pull him from under the water.

By the time they were able to free him, he had been under water too long. They immediately began to administer CPR and a call was put out to the Lowman EBCAD about 6-miles downriver. When Lowman Emergency response personnel and the ambulance arrived, they immediately continued with CPR, relieving the first responders.

Air St. Luke's was dispatched for the 15-minute flight to the Lowman area and landed at the Ponds. When the Air St. Luke's medical personnel arrived on-site they immediately took over for the first responders and Lowman EBCAD personnel checked for vital signs. However, the young kayaker had been unresponsive for nearly 50 minutes at that time.

While continuously administering CPR, young Hansen was prepared for transport about 300 yards out of the river bed, through the forest and to the waiting chopper, where he was airlifted straight to St. Luke's Regional Medical Center.

At St. Luke's, emergency personnel continued to work on the young victim without response, until he was pronounced dead at 8:40 pm.

A notice was published for a memorial to be held at the Cloverdale Funeral Home in Boise; "Max Hansen passed tragically on August 14th, 2019 at the tender age of 10 years old. An adventurous, loving, friendly child, Max will be sadly missed by all who know and love him. Full life tribute coming soon."

A celebration of Max's life will be held on Saturday, August 24th in the Cloverdale Event Center of Cloverdale Funeral Home beginning at 1pm.

With the rash of accidents going on in Idaho's rivers this summer, it's clear that the necessity for caution can't be emphasized enough for caution outdoor enthusiasts. Even a calm, quiet river poses potential danger around any bend.

New Changes at HSB Schools

Written by Tracy Koslosky

HORSESHOE BEND -- Students in the Horseshoe Bend School District may notice some changes when they arrive on campus Wednesday, August 21. Digital cameras and two-way speakers (with school bells) have been installed in the classrooms, along with keyless entries. New carpet was installed in the high school over the summer break and the gymnasium foyer got a facelift with new flooring and trophy cases, while the main gym had security cameras installed.

This school year, students will have the use of all the supplies necessary to complete their school work, thanks to the district and several generous donors. Backpacks will also be provided to any student in need of one.

Two new additions to the teaching staff were made. The elementary school welcomes 3rd grade teacher, Susie Vavra, and K-12 has a new Physical Education/Health teacher, Jeff Longacre.

This school year the district will be readying for the Northwest Accreditation Commission (NWAC). Schools with grades 9-12 in Idaho are reviewed every five years for compliance with standards of quality by the NWAC in conjunction with the Idaho Accreditation Council, which reviews compliance reports and issues accreditation status to schools.

Fall sports schedules are currently available on the school website <http://www.hsbschools.org>. The website provides the community a wealth of information, from schedules to student grades through the Lumen portal. Coming soon to the website will be a Mustang Team Store where school patrons will be able to purchase a variety of school-related apparel.

The HSB Middle School will be holding a meeting on Wednesday, August 21 at 4:00 p.m. for parents of students that wish to participate in the middle school football team. The meeting will be held in room 101 of the high school.

There will be a school-wide Open House on Thursday, August 22 from 4 p.m.-6 p.m.

Starlight Finishing the Season with a Funny and Emotional Family Story

Written by Janet Juroch
GARDEN VALLEY -- Over the River and Through the Woods closes out Starlight Mountain Theatre's 20th Anniversary season in a story about family that is sure to tug at heartstrings and remind viewers of the reality of family ties. The Broadway plays under the stars have had delightful weather that has been cooperative through most of the season. The selection of performances has brought locals and out-of-towners to Garden Valley. The newest production, Over the River and Through the Woods, has already started and runs through August 30th. Ed Davis, the artistic director of Starlight has been telling people, "If you have had only one Starlight play to attend this season, this is the one I recommend".

The premise of the story is relatable and most everyone will recognize their own family in this production. Family ties run strong, but a job promotion with a potential move uncovers family dynamics in dealing with something that might be disagreeable to some family members. Hard decisions bring out the personalities of each person as they discover family ties do run deep. Expectations run even deeper.

Lots of laughs are sure to arise in this story of parents, grandparents, and their kids as they deal with everyday life. Even the nuttiest habits become more prevalent as the parents are sure they raised their child to continue in their footsteps and stay close. New opportunities can change all that, and the audience is drawn into how families deal with expectations vs. change.

Family dinners are often the center point of great family. The audience is the mouse on the wall watching the family sort through a very common issue of change, as a son contemplates a move far away from family. His family works hard to keep those ties, sometimes though food and fun dialogue and those habits that drive us nuts! Laughter will come from watching this overzealous Italian family. They are often loud and passionate. Yet the audience will witness their struggles and feel a part of a family.

Davis commented that this production "will make you laugh but tears come as well," as the characters are brilliantly played by some local faces, such as Skye Davis playing the adult son, alongside others that were handpicked perfectly for their roles. "Rob and Kathryn Shields, actors extraordinaire, light up the stage whenever they perform, and we are all so excited they are returning to Starlight to star in this amazing show", says Davis.

Play rehearsal at the Starlight. Over the River and Through the Woods runs from August 19th to August 30th.

Attending one of the performance rehearsals, it clearly shows that practice makes perfect in learning the lines and positions on the stage floor. There is so much coordination to put any production together. The unsung heroes are those that are not seen as the play is produced. They are the ones to make sure lines are learned, places are marked, and music is keyed at the right times. Lighting, props, and costumes complete the flawless presentation of each production.

Plan to schedule in one last play before this summer closes out. Get your tickets for

Over the River and Through the Woods, August 19-30, today at www.starlightmt.com. Laugh one minute and cry the next in this amazing story about family".

Garden Valley Senior & Social Center News

Written by Candis Donicht
GARDEN VALLEY -- We are pleased to report that our annual activities have been scheduled on the calendar by our board at the August Board Meeting.

We will have our Gourmet Dinners in September and October, with October 22 being hosted by the Garden Valley Library. On November 14, we will have a Soup and Salad Dinner hosted by our board. The Holiday Bazaar will be on Saturday, November 2, and the Members Only Christmas Party will be on Saturday, December 14. The Talent Show is on the calendar for February 29, and it is never too early to plan and organize your acts. In long-term planning, we have submitted a grant to the Idaho Community Foundation to purchase more stainless steel cookware and to "remodel" our deck with a fresh stain, new tables, and umbrellas so that everyone can better enjoy that nice outdoor space.

On the immediate horizon is our Second Annual Labor Day Blow-out Sale at Granny's. On Friday, August 30 and Saturday, August 31, we will have our 25 cent sale on the patio and in the dining room. Come by and get great buys as we reduce our inventory and prepare to bring our fall and winter things into Granny's. We continue to have "mini" sales each weekend and it is great to see so many of you return for bargains. Granny's is open from 11-5 on Fridays and Saturdays.

We don't know where the summer goes, but once again it has flown by. Cooler mornings and the sightings of school busses are proof that fall is around the corner. As summer ends, we want to acknowledge the talented Linda Baker and her volunteers who tend the flowers and landscaping, which always look spectacular.

The GVSC is also the very grateful recipient of a generous donation from Jayne Carlson for ongoing costs for the landscaping and gardens. We will miss you, Jayne, and we were so fortunate to have you as a loyal supporter, past Board member, and participant at the Center. Your very positive spirit lives on in our hearts.

Volleyball Jamboree

Written by Alexee Kline
IDAHO CITY HIGH SCHOOL -- On August 24, 2019, I am hosting a Volleyball Jamboree for my senior project at Idaho City High School. I chose to do this because of my passion for volleyball and to honor my late father, Bill Phillips, who instilled in me the love of the game and sense of community. For as long as I can remember, I've had a volleyball in my hand. I went to all of his practices, played with his volleyball teams, and went to every game. He inspired me to become a volleyball player and hard worker. My father was a coach and teacher in Idaho City for over 20 years who touched the lives of many people around him. He was involved in the community and always found time to give back. Whether that was fixing the board walks of Idaho City or enlightening bright minds in the classroom. It was his love of community and giving back that inspired me to put on this event in hopes of giving back to my team and program that we both love so much. I would appreciate all of the help and support that I can get. I am hoping to raise money for the ICHS volleyball program. My goal is to raise $7,500 through this Volleyball Jamboree to replace some of our volleyball equipment, since some are 25 years old. If you would like to make a donation, you can find a donation can at local businesses or you can mail a check, made out to ICHS, to PO Box 750, Idaho City, ID. 83631. And of course, I hope you will attend the Jamboree on the 24th starting at 10:30am in the Idaho City High School Gym! We are hoping for some great volleyball games.

THE WILD WEST OF DUKE DAYS RODEO

GARDEN VALLEY --

Duke Days Rodeo lived up to their promise yet again, to be bigger and better with each passing year. The music and running commentary from the announcer keep the crowd cheering and entertained. Held at the Youren Arena, this rodeo has a distinct old west feel, with a unique lineup of events that can't be enjoyed anywhere else in the world!

They started off this year's event with a cowboy shooting demo, a friendly competition between a mother and daughter. A beautiful tribute was then paid to John Wayne, and to this great country in which we call home.

The rodeo was like no other, besides the usual Bronc riding, they have their very own special events. The Rawhide Run consists of one person on a horse, pulling another person riding on a patch of rawhide. The objective is to stay on your respective "rides" and complete the run as a team. Of course, there is always that element of the unexpected, which makes this rodeo a hoot and a holler.

The Bottle Run is yet another event enjoyed by audience members over 21-years of age. The rules are simple, the contestants run after a calf and try to grab an object off from around its neck. Whoever successfully gets that object wins a bottle of Pendleton whiskey!

The Egg Run starts off with everyone holding a raw egg in their mouth. They complete two laps around the arena, where various hay bales are placed, which have to be jumped. The first one to the finish line -- with an intact egg -- is the winner.

The Milk Run is yet another event where members are of age. A team member on horseback chugs a beer and then ropes a cow. His or her team member must then milk the cow, filling the empty beer can. First one across the finish line wins!

An unusual observance is the numerous old cowboy boots set up and duct taped atop the fence surrounding the arena. Raffle tickets can be bought and placed inside of the boot in front of the rider you hope to win the insane ride around the hillside. The winner of the run splits the winnings with the winning ticket in the boot. This year they split $621!

The Duke Days Rodeo is an event unique to Boise County, the rodeo circuit, and honoring the crazy days of the old west.

BOISE COUNTY

Truck Fire at Hilltop

EAST BOISE COUNTY -- A truck fire occurred on Tuesday evening, August 20, at hilltop on Highway 21. Boise County Sheriff Kaczmarek confirmed that the driver was alright when he arrived on scene, but was unable to read the burned license plate to determine if it were a 6B plate. Ada County will be handling this case, because it was over the county line.

Motorists reported seeing a lot of black smoke and were held in traffic for about 30 minutes while BLM firefighters made a fire break on the hillside to stop the fire's progression.

BOISE COUNTY

LATE SEASON BOATING SAFETY

U.S. Coast Guard
Auxiliary Public Affairs

U.S. Department of Homeland Security
United States
Coast Guard
Auxiliary

BOISE COUNTY -- Fall is in the air and the summer boating season is starting to wind down at Lucky Peak Reservoir, Arrowrock Reservoir, and all waterways across Idaho. Sad news for boaters who enjoy skiing or fishing sunny, warm days on the water. Surprisingly, many Idahoans utilize their recreation watercraft year-round. Sportsmen are beginning to gear up for the upcoming hunting and fishing opportunities. These folks often access their favorite tucked-away areas when the reservoir water levels drop and the rain or snow begins to fly. Common sense is often clouded by anticipation to be the first boat launch in the morning to reach their favorite destination. Cutting corners is a recipe for disaster when extra time isn't taken to balance gear on boats. Examples happen every year when a boater doesn't adhere to the vessel's U.S. Coast Guard capacity and weight rating placard, no one on the boat checks the latest weather forecast, and passengers are negligent in wearing their life jackets, with some even found in their original package. As a result, a large storm approaches the horizon and the small lake ripples turn into a turbulent swell. The unbalanced and overweight boat overturns and the occupants are left clinging to the hull of the boat. The weather element in Idaho, especially in mountain regions like Boise County, can be unpredictable and change rapidly, thus water safety is imperative. These mariners are often the only ones out on the water and need to make extra preparations and take extra precautions. Follow this quick boater's checklist to maintain a safe venture:

- Create a float plan. Tell a contact where you are going and when you will be home.
- Always wear your life jacket. Inaccessible or stowed away is no good.
- Research weather forecasts and review updates. You don't want a surprise.
- A dry kit with extra clothes, batteries, matches, snacks, flashlight, first aid kit, VHF radio or cell phone.

- Attach an engine cut-off cord to a boater's clothing. Stopping the engine in an emergency.
- Equip vessel with a platform. If you fall, it's easy to get back on board.
- Dress in layered clothing versus bulky clothing.
- Utilize survival suit or keep small raft on board your vessel as a backup.
- Properly balance gear & don't overload boat. Use U.S. Coast Guard weight and capacity rating placard.
- Bright-colored flag or distress signal.
- If you fall into the water, try not to panic, & control your breathing.
- Vessel safety inspection every year. This award signifies that your vessel has met safety equipment requirements.

Safety first, remember that no trophy buck or fish is worth your life. Never take unnecessary risks that can put you or your passengers' lives in jeopardy. A bit of planning and taking the time to properly outfit your boat will make it an enjoyable winter weather outing and keep you out of harm's way. The Coast Guard Auxiliary is the uniformed civilian component of the U.S. Coast Guard and supports the Coast Guard in nearly all mission areas. The Auxiliary was created by Congress in 1939. SUSPECTED FIRE FROM CAMPER

WILDERNESS RANCH FIRE DISTRICT -- A fire was reported last Wednesday afternoon, August 14th, at mile marker 24 along Highway 21. Wilderness Ranch Fire Chief Jim Bryant said the fire appeared to have come from an abandoned campfire that was not out. One Boise County resident has kept watch on that area, a pull-out located north of Wilderness Ranch, because there was a fire there the previous year. People seem to enjoy camping along Mores Creek, but it has become a problem when they don't fully extinguish their campfires. The fire was quickly contained by area resources: Wilderness Ranch Fire District, Robie Creek VFD, wildland firefighters, U.S. Forest Service, and Idaho Department of Lands. It burned less than an acre, but as the winds intensified, could have threatened the closure of the highway. The resident indicated there had been a grey Tacoma truck parked there and saw the campfire. Please contact the Boise County Sheriff's Office at 208-392-4411 to report information on this case.
