Slick Roads on Christmas Day in Horseshoe Bend

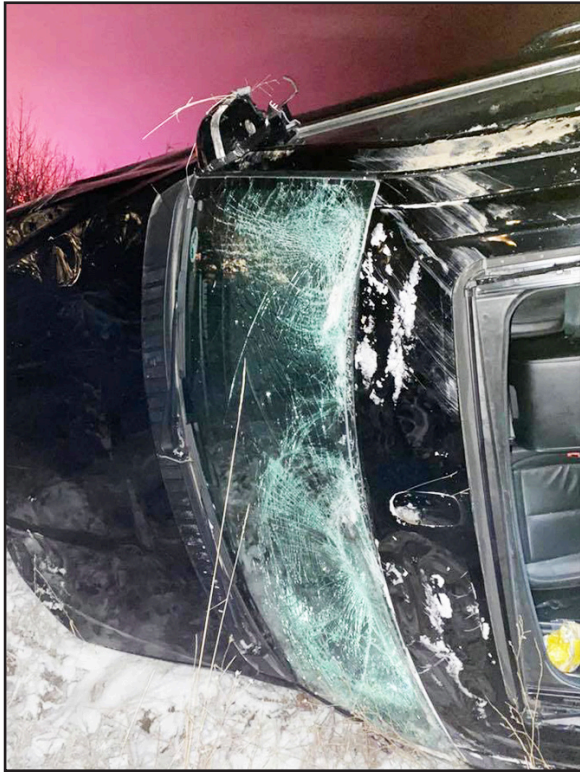

Written by Eileen Capson
HORSESHOE BEND --

Aside from a goose egg that the driver had on her head from impact, everyone checked out alright with the ambulance. No one was transported to the hospital after the wreck, which occurred on Christmas, December 25th, at about ten o'clock at night. The roads were slick in Horseshoe Bend on Cruikshank Road, a private road that's open for public use. The corner was described as a sheet of ice and speed was not a factor in this accident. The family had been up visiting friends at a cabin for the day.

The father of the young family was traveling in a separate vehicle in front of the Ford Expedition. The mother and her two young children were involved in the accident, but were able to get safely out of the vehicle by themselves without extrication.

Lori Kalic, Media Liaison for Horseshoe Bend Fire, said the occupants were very lucky, considering there was a ravine on either side of the road with a steep embankment, and mentioned that this road could be a scary drive when it was icy. She recounted that the young boy was very excited to see firemen, who came from the Horseshoe Bend Volunteer Fire Department to help his family.

Although the SUV tumbled down a side hill, the family was for the most part uninjured.

YANK LADD ~ EARLY SETTLERS OF UPPER PAYETTE

WRITTEN BY JERRY BRANSON ~ HISTORIAN

GARDEN VALLEY --

Frank “Yank” Ladd was an early comer to Garden Valley (Upper Payette). He lived on the triangle between the South Fork of the Payette and the Middle Fork of the Payette. Before that, Ladd was living in Mineral Burean, Illinois in 1860. He had an older sister, Jamie, and two brothers. On December 4, 1873, The Idaho World wrote that he had gone to Idaho City and reported a good crop yield. Since he grew corn, that was the likely product.

On May 31, 1878, Ladd sought a $325 reward for the body of Lee Paw, who drowned in the South Fork of the Payette. Lee Paw had fallen off of a log ferry at Gallagher’s ranch at Gallagher Creek, earlier in the summer.

Yank lived in Upper Payette, or Garden Valley, mostly, but did spend some time in Placer-ville.

At this time, he was appar-ently a bachelor who did not travel much, nor did he have a family. He was also an old fur trapper in the early days, before he settled at Upper Pay-ette, now called Garden Valley. He did apparently engage in some farming in Garden Val-ley between the two rivers and took produce to the Basin. He did raise corn since that is what he delivered to Idaho City. On August 25, 1885, he was re-ported having a cord binder in Garden Valley. On January 28, 1890, he visited Idaho City and said the snow was 3-feet deep. He was likely delivering corn. Not much news of Ladd appears past the 1890’s, except for an injury from the horse near Placerville. He did not appear in The Idaho World by 1900 or later. In 1891, he was thrown off a horse in Garden Valley and was badly injured.

Yank was supposedly mar-ried in Garden Valley on July 4, 1890, as printed in The Idaho World newspaper. There was no age or name listed for his bride, but supposedly Yank was 46 and his bride was 18. According to the newspaper, they were married by J.P. Thomas Paull of Garden Val-ley.

I have some doubts the marriage actually occurred, al-though details were given, in-cluding the name of the pastor, in The Idaho World.

Ladd later died on Octo-ber 3, 1894 and was buried in Garden Valley. According to a probate of Ladd’s estate, he was buried by a brother, Hazen Ladd. His sister, Jam-ie, inherited Yanks’ estate. But that leaves to question, if Yank was already married, what happened to the wife? She should have inherited the estate. I have no name for the wife, so we cannot trace her. They may have divorced, but no divorce records existed in Boise County or surrounding counties at that time. The wife may have even passed away before Yank did. Or, perhaps the probate person could have been at odds with the wife and gave everything to the sister, Jamie. No children have been identified from this marriage. The Ladds seem to have kept to themselves.

The Ladd place was located on the south half and slightly to the east in this photograph.

Asa Abbott, Hugh Craig, and J. C. Mills all owned the same land. The Ladd place is just on the south half of those lands and slightly east. I am repeating the Mills photo be-cause Ladd was right behind the Mills’ barn. His home was slightly west, just out of the Mills photo. The old Ladd place is now a gravel pit.

Garden Valley Senior & Social Center News

By Candis Donicht

As 2019 closes, the Garden Valley Senior Center (GVSC) wants to express sincere grati-tude for generous grants and donations received this year.

The Idaho Community Foundation approved a $4,500 grant for replacement kitchen equipment, a lockable storage cabinet, and patio furniture.

The Treasure Valley Employ-ee Community Fund, through Idaho Power and IDACORP, Inc. gave the Center $998. This funding is generated through voluntary employee contributions and corporate matching funds, with the purpose of en-abling the Center to continue to provide services to senior citizens and the community.

Boise County sent us $500 for general operations and meet-ing the expenses at our Center.

Our membership and lo-cal groups have also been ex-tremely generous this year. One anonymous member do-nated $2,000, and Jayne Carl-son donated $1,000 for ongo-ing landscaping needs. The Syringa Club added $500 to the landscaping account, and friends of Jayne Carlson and Allan Scharf sent over $200 in donations in their names.

In all, the GVSC received almost $9,700 in grants and donations in 2019. It is totally humbling to be the beneficia-ries of such generosity from our state, county, corporations, community, membership, and friends. Good things are hap-pening at the Center, and we will see you all there in 2020!

You expect tremendous views in Crosstimber and you get them. Especially from the Lot 23 location. This 10+ Acre prop-erty is spacious, usable, and private with driveway and building pad rough cut in. The scenic neighborhood hiking trails are accessible directly from this lot. Common area includes park and ponds. Call today for a tour. What to do Before the Fire Department Arrives: Part 3

By Rick Murray, Faculty Member of The National Fire Academy

By Rick Murray & Carrie Wiss EMT-A with Ada County Paramedics

BOISE COUNTY -- This is the third and final article in a series of three articles to advise what you can do in an emergency before the fire department arrives. This article deals with what to do if the emergency is an Emergency Medical Service (EMS) call.

This is the most complex type of emergency, because every type of injury or illness is treated based on the specific nature of the injury or illness. The first, and perhaps most important, thing you can do is take a “compressions only CPR course” that includes training on how to use an automated external defibrillator, or “AED.” In an earlier article, I described the difference between a heart attack and sudden cardiac arrest, so I won’t go into that again, but in both situations seconds count from the time the person is stricken to the onset of chest compressions and the application of an AED. Other ways you could prepare is to take a First Aid course (find a course by visiting www.redcross.org) or a Stop the Bleed class (visit www.bleedingcontrol.org to find a class). One thing to keep in mind is to only treat the patient within the scope of your training.

For the purposes of this article, EMS calls can basically be divided into traumatic injuries and medical illnesses. Traumatic injuries are usually caused by accidents like vehicle crashes, falls, or major cuts. Broken bones, large lacerations with lots of bleeding, heart stoppages, and termination of breathing are primary issues you may need to deal with.

There are three “S’s” for traumatic injury: Stop the bleeding, Start chest compressions, and protect the Spine. If the patient is bleeding profusely, which usually means there is a lot of spurting blood, you must stop the bleeding. First call 911, and then apply direct pressure to the wound using a sterile (or at least the cleanest possible cloth). If the dressing saturates with blood, don’t remove it; just put another dressing on top of the first one and continue to apply pressure. If direct pressure doesn’t stop the bleeding and the wound is on the arm or leg, you will need to apply a tourniquet. If you don’t have an actual tourniquet, wrap a belt or nylon strap about 2 inches above the wound (not on a joint) and tighten just until the bleeding stops. Note the time you applied the tourniquet and relay that information to first responders.

If you face a patient with no pulse, you need to call 911, start CPR, and apply an AED (if one is available) as quickly as possible. Note that if the patient is a child younger than 8 years of age, you should perform CPR for 2 minutes before calling 911.

If the patient was involved in an auto accident or a fall, you need to consider that the spine may have been injured. You will need to support the patient’s head and neck in a neutral position and keep the patient from moving. It is important to keep the patient warm to prevent shock.

If the injury occurs at home and you are able to, collect all the prescription medications, vitamins, supplements, and non-prescription medications the patient takes and put them in a plastic bag. They can be brought with the patient so medical staff know what the patient is taking. Tell the first responders about any allergies (especially to medications) the patient has.

For calls related to a medical illness, family caregivers usually know what the illness is and the basic steps they can take to help the patient. Once again, it is important to collect all the prescription medications, vitamins, supplements, and non-prescription medications the patient takes. Also tell the first responders of any the patient has. If the patient has executed a Physician Orders for Scope of Treatment (POST), see if you can find it for the first responders.

Let me close by restating that training in CPR and First Aid is the best thing you can do to assist in an EMS call before the fire department arrives.

Disclaimer: This article is for information only and as such does not recommend specific medical treatments for any injury or illness and the information contained herein cannot be relied upon for such treatment. Boise County District Court:

December 20, 2019

Jarrid Smith, 21, was arraigned for three new felony charges of three felony charges of enticing a minor for sex, abuse of a child under the age of 16. He could be made to serve up to 65 years in jail, pay $50,000 for each charge, and would be on the sexual offender registry. He will enter a plea on January 10th.

Jeremy Hansford was in custody from the Ada County Jail and present for a pretrial conference. There are new charges now pending from the child pornography case originating in Idaho City. He waived his right to a speedy trial. He currently has twelve felony charges in relation to controlled substance possession, lewd conduct, and child sexually exploitive material. Bail is set at $1,000,000.

Bessie Peterson, in connection with Jeremy Hansford, was in custody of the Ada County jail and also waived her right to a speedy trial. A status check will occur on January 10th and trial will be set at that time. The judge asked that the case be consolidated prior to that time. She currently has thirteen felony charges in relation to controlled substance possession, lewd conduct, and child sexually exploitive material. Bail is set at $1,000,000.

Scott B. Young was brought before the court for a rider review, Feb. 15, 2019 was the sentencing. Charged with the sexual abuse of a child under the age of 16, who he supplied with alcohol and marijuana. He could be sentenced up to 15 years. Young had completed the program while in jail and they recommended supervised probation. He chose not to make a comment to the court. The District Judge determined the defendant obeyed the rules, was awarded a lunch with the warden, was a positive role model, and completed all the assigned tasks. He will reside in Horseshoe Bend. There is a no contact order for ten years. There were other special conditions regarding youth and pornography.

Michael McCombs filled out a guilty form for injury to a child, per an agreement with the court. June and August 2018 did commit a sexual injury in Boise County with a child eight years of age in Crouch, causing mental suffering and physical harm. A substance abuse and evaluations will be conducted for the time of sentencing on March 20th.

James Tunilla of Idaho City was present and out of custody of the Ada County Jail. There is a process to mediate, but that wasn’t done for the pretrial. The trial was reset for March 11th. He waived his right to a speedy trial. February 21st is his pretrial conference. [the charges were not stated]

LEUKEMIA AND LYMPHOMA SOCIETY FUNDRAISER

Written Vanessa Gardener
IDAHO CITY -- The students of Idaho City High School who participate in National Honor Society (NHS) are holding a fundraiser for something that has effected people in our community. The fundraiser is for the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, a voluntary agency for health whose purpose is to cure leukemia, lymphoma, Hodgkin’s Disease, and myeloma. They want to create a better value of life for people unfortunate enough to get any of those diseases and help their families who are affected.

The NHS is selling bracelets, doing a penny war, collecting donations, and creating a note wall of paper blood drops. Overall, we hope to spread awareness and appreciation for this agency.

Many people in our area have been affected by cancer, some being our own students. Through research, patient support, policy and advocacy, they have helped many fight cancer and even changed their worlds.

NHS students have donation locations at The Sarsaparilla, Seasons, Kayak Subs, and Trudy’s Kitchen. Please consider helping us with our mission to help those affected by cancer.

Pencils were also sold at the elementary to support Sean through his ordeal with cancer. Photo by E. Capson

Snowmobile Rescue Near Pilots Peak

BOISE BASIN -- Sgt. Scott Turner was on patrol on December 22nd when a woman came to the Sheriff's office worried for the safety of her family. She had received a phone call from her husband that he and their two boys were lost and stuck before the call was dropped. Having also received a text with an approximate location near Pilots Peak, members from the Boise Snowmobile Club, Idaho Search and Rescue, the snow groomer, and others assembled. Sgt. Turner commented that this father was more prepared than most for the elements, stocked with food, water, means to make a fire, and a whistle. He said thanks to the Snowmobile club, the family was found within an hour and a half, off the trail about three miles from Pilots Peak, at the bottom of a ridge. He thought it important to mention that Idaho Search and Rescue is not equipped with ATVs or snowmobiles, they conduct a ground search, which can take prolonged searching to locate lost individuals. Steve Shay with the Boise Snowmobile Club recounted the events that night: "As we got the call from Greg Davis, snow groomer for Boise County and member of the club, we packed up our stuff and headed up to Mores Creek. As we got there, the Sheriff Deputy and Search & Rescue were setting up and getting communications established. We let Search and Rescue use the trailer and our group headed out towards Four Corners. Justin and Brian left a bit ahead of us and we all met at Four Corners. They went down toward Summit Flats and our group went to the lookout [at Pilots Peak]. We were yelling, blowing whistles, and listening. We found nothing up high and headed down towards Summit Flats. We took a short cut off the trail, about a mile down from Four Corners and stopped, yelled, whistled, and we heard a faint whistle. We rode towards the sound and we saw a tiny light across the drainage. We headed towards the light and were able to make it to them. It was a bit tricky to cross the creek. It was nice to see the dad and the two boys in good shape. We made a quick assessment on their health, conditions, and on their sleds. It was clear they were not going to be able to make it over the creek and to the trail. Kody, Shay, and Wyatt rode their sleds out and up to the trail. Justin Harrison, Brandi Johnson, and Scott Shay helped with keeping the group positioned towards the trail. We got them across and safely to the trail. We then all headed back to the parking lot." "Justin Harrison and Brian Ridgeway had seen them earlier in the day at the Four Corners area. They had made it back to Boise when they also got the call and turned around and went clear back to Mores Creek. Greg Davis and his son, Dusty Davis, went and got the groomer and headed to Mores Creek also. "They transported Search & Rescue to Four Corners and waited as we had found them by the time the groomer and a few Search & Rescue guys got there. I communicated back that things were good." "The rescue went about as good as you could possibly hope for. Hearing about a dad and two young boys stranded touches your heart and emotions to do what you can to help." "The group we had on the mountain from Search & Rescue, the groomer, and the Sheriff Department's Scott Turner was awesome to work with. From the club there was Kody Shay, Scott Shay, Wyatt Cavinness, Brandi Johnson, myself, Justin Harrison, and Brian Ridgway. Greg Davis and his son Dusty Davis helped make this a great group. And yes, mother nature was nice that night, from the temperature, to the ability to see." "I would like people to be aware of Pilots Peak. It's a great place to ride, but please be very aware that it's tough terrain and there are almost no outlets if you go off the trail. We use inreach delorme satellite texters in the backcountry, winter and summer, because cell phones are not reliable and they have coordinates, which would be so helpful." Kristie Hepworth, wife and mother, reached out on social media: "To all of you who ~ continued on page 6

Old-time Christmas in Horseshoe Bend and Jerusalem

Written by Don Fry
BOISE COUNTY -- Beginning in the 1870s, Christmas celebrations in Horseshoe Bend and Jerusalem were a community affair, usually celebrated in the school house or in a community hall. The teacher would put together a Christmas program or pageant to be put on by the children and there would be musical performances by children and others in the community. Everyone in attendance sang Christmas carols together and then Santa would appear with gifts for the children. There would be refreshments. Often, around Christmas there would be dances held at peoples' homes. These were multi-day affairs, with people sleeping over at the host's house. Phillip Zimmer and family sponsored a Christmas dance in 1891 and Mrs. John Daly of Jerusalem was well-known for her Christmas balls at their home. The tradition of a community Christmas continued well into my own childhood. Each classroom, consisting of two grades, would put on a performance. The year I was in the first grade, the celebration was held in Riverside Hall. I was one of the toys under the tree, a wooden block fashioned by my Grandmother out of a cardboard box and colored paper. Then we sang Christmas carols, and I seem to recall that everyone sang, even the audience. After the show, Santa Claus arrived in full costume and beard, with bushel baskets full of goodies for the kids. We each got a paper bag filled with candy, nuts and an orange, assembled by the PTA. Each year there was speculation as to who would be playing Santa that year and it was supposed to be a secret. As Santa arrived, people would study him carefully, trying to figure out who it was. Often, one of the Jerusalem bachelors, Harold "Deac" Faull, would be the Santa. One year it was Bun Hoff, owner of the sawmill. Dude Noland was Santa one year, and another year it was Fred Charters. One of Fred's children recognized his father's knobby, beaten up hands as he passed out the sacks. Once, when I was in high school, it was supposed to be my uncle, Steve Helm, but too many people found out the secret, so he substituted me at the last minute. There was a great deal of puzzlement as Steve stood grinning in the back of the Community Hall while Santa walked in. But the year that fooled everyone was when Juanita Ranft played the part. She was walking down the aisle at the Community hall, passing out the goodies. Suddenly, Santa's trousers fell down around her ankles, revealing red long johns and a decidedly feminine form. There was a roar of laughter and recognition from the people around her and a brief scramble to retrieve the trousers and the show went on. But one little voice was heard over all the others in the hall, saying, "Momma! Momma! Look! Santa is a lady!" The local reporters in the community often wrote detailed accounts of the Community Christmas celebration for the Idaho World. In 1876, this account was published: "Perhaps you have room in your valuable paper for a sketch from Jerusalem, a place somewhere on the Payette. On Christmas Eve we visited the tree at Horseshoe Bend, where we found everything in readiness. The performance opened by singing of the two Miss Miners, assisted by the organ. Next, orating by the school children, which ended by 'Flip up and Die.' Then the tree was stripped off for those who were remembered. Next, popcorn was passed around by the bushel, in which we indulged freely. Next, we drove to Jerusalem to partake of Mrs. Dayley's dinner, which could not be beat in Idaho. In the evening a social little dance was had, which passed off splendidly. On New Year's Day we had our fat turkeys, domestic chickens and all kinds of goodies over again, ending with another social dance, when all went home well satisfied. Idaho, and the women therein cannot beat Mrs. Dayley for making a crowd happy during the holidays. Yours, etc. A subscriber and mountaineer." Here is one from Christmas 1889 written by the local correspondent, Frank Clarkson: "Quite an unusual number of young people spent the holidays here. Miss Hattie Stone, Miss Minnie Robb and also Miss Anna Webster, who is attending school in Boise, came home for the holidays. Thos. Bowen, principal of the Emmett school, and brother of P. M Bowen, of the Bend, also spent the holidays here, and Miss Annie Short, teacher of the primary department of the Emmett school, and her sister, Miss Maggie, were guests of their cousin, Mrs. P. M. Bowen, during the holiday season. Miss Ada Long, of Boise, has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. H. H. Clark of the Bend. 'Christmas here was a beautiful day, the sun shining clear and bright. In the evening the people, both young and old, gathered at the school house, where Miss May Clark and her scholars gave an entertainment. The exercises opened with a duet by Miss May Clark and Miss Ella Stone, followed by recitations and dialogues by the pupils. Then the teacher, Miss Clark, told them all to be quiet, for she thought she heard Santa Clause and any noise might frighten him away. In a few moments we heard bells jingling and in came old Santa with his pack on his back, and looked old and feeble, and is not as young as he used to be, which accounts for his not arriving sooner than he did; but he had not forgotten any of the children. After delivering the presents to the youngsters, with a pleasant word for each, he bade them good night and went on his way. The rest of the evening was pleasantly spent in games and social chat, and Jacob found his Rachel and Punch his Judy. All went home in a happy mood." Sad to say, such openly Christian celebrations are forbidden in the public schools today on church vs. state grounds. But for me they are one of the happiest memories. Merry Christmas to All Don Fry

MEET IDAHO CITY'S SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT WRITTEN BY STUDENTS

MR. HUNICKE SUPERINTENDENT IDAHO CITY HIGH SCHOOL

Do you know any students or staff members that go to Idaho City High School? If you do, you've probably heard something about our new superintendent, Brian Hunicke. You know, the guy that earns many of the grants. Most people don't really know who he is, though he has been at the school for two full years as the superintendent and a science teacher. If this is the case for you, we are here to tell you everything we know about him.

Mr. Hunicke is certified in natural science. He attended elementary school in Los Angeles, California, and middle and high school in Lone Pine, California. He went to college at California State University, Stanislaus where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Geology. While attending CSUS, Mr. Hunicke paid for college by fighting fire for the U.S. Forest Service on the engine, helitack, and hotshot crews. In 1994, he discovered Idaho City while on a 42-day deployment to the Robie Creek Fire as a hotshot squad boss. Mr. Hunicke decided to give up firefighting and go back to school and earn a master's degree in teaching from Eastern Oregon University after a rock climbing accident that resulted in a broken neck.

Mr. Hunicke earned his teaching degree and became a teacher in Klamath Falls. Mr. Hunicke became a science teacher at North Junior High in Boise for 10 years. Mrs. Hunicke got a job in Austin,

TX as the STEM director for Girl Scouts, so Mr. Hunicke found a position with the Mind Research Institute in Austin developing partnerships with math curriculum directors in the northwest. Hunicke moved back to Idaho and went to college at Boise State University, where he then earned an Ed Specialist degree

Mr. Hunicke met Mr. Roeber, Idaho City PE/health teacher, while working at Boise State University as the K-12 professional development coordinator. Mr. Hunicke gave Mr. Roeber complimentary tickets to a Boise State football game as part of a teacher appreciation program. Mr. Roeber and former superintendent John McFarlane gave Mr. Hunicke the grand tour of the ICOE. Mr. Hunicke was hooked! Mr. and Mrs. Hunicke missed Idaho so much that when the Basin School District had an opening for the two of them, they came back as science and elementary teachers. The superintendent position is not just about sitting around telling people what to do. He is up and helping everyone around him, which is one of his favorite parts about his job. He goes from working with the kindergartners to working with the 6th and 7th graders in a matter of hours. But he doesn't just work in the school, he also manages our outdoor education center. He goes out and keeps it in tip-top shape. He also goes up and organizes everything for the ICOEs (Idaho Center for Outdoor Education). Hunicke has many plans for the future of our school. He wants to introduce new classes such, as culinary arts and advanced coding classes, as well as new facilities such as an auxiliary gym. Mr. Hunicke would also like to introduce some new school sports, such as baseball, softball, snowboarding, and skiing.

In the end, we hope that this article was a great way for you to get to know our superintendent, Brian Hunicke. He brings a lot of opportunities to students and staff alike.

were able to come out and rescue my husband and kids: THANK YOU! We feel so extremely blessed to be home together today because of your tremendous efforts to search for them and bring them out safely. We will forever be grateful to each and every one of you, as well as the search and rescue crew, groomer, Sergeant Scott Turner, dispatchers, and Bob Showalter. Thank you, you have helped us to experience a Christmas miracle that we will never forget!"

CENTERVILLE ROAD ROLLOVER

A one-car accident on Centerville Road occurred when a Suburban apparently broke a tie rod and flipped over on its side when it hit the snowbank on Sunday, December 29th. The vehicle narrowly missed going down a steep embankment. The two passengers crawled out safely through the sunroof. Traffic remained stopped for about 45-minutes because the SUV blocked both lanes.

BOISE COUNTY

Rescued by Locals

Written by Steve Twilegar,
Joint Owner of The Gold
Mine Grill & Saloon

BOISE BASIN -- The Gold Mine Grill & Saloon was closed as we were having an employee Christmas party (12/16/2019). At approximately 11:45pm, a mother and her daughter came in panicked about another daughter and four grandchildren ages 7 to 15, two of which were said to be autistic. She indicated that her daughter had left the valley at 11:30am and could not be reached via three different cell phones and had not checked in with friends since she left. I gave her our landline telephone and said she needed to call the Sheriff's office to be sure a search party could be formed without the confusion of several entities searching without the others knowing. She did so and was told that the Sheriff's office had pinged the cell phones and couldn't find the phones and therefore couldn't form a search party because "it's forest and its dark." I was unaware of this and was busy consoling the victim's mother, assuring her that we would find them (we being the private citizens if necessary).

After about 35 minutes, I called the Sheriff's office and asked what the status of a search party was and was told the same thing..."It's Forest, its dark, and we have no means of searching for them." After a long conversation with the mother, it was clear to us that there were two places where they were VERY likely to be found. They had told the mother and at least two other friends that they were headed up to get a Christmas tree in the same place they did last year.

During my conversation with the dispatcher, he was made aware of this but insisted there was nothing the Sheriff was going to do until morning.

They had been missing for more than 12 hours by this time and there was solid information as to their whereabouts. As a last ditch effort, one of my crew, CJ Torgensen, called the State Police hoping they would help. After a long while, the state indicated that they could not usurp the authority of a sheriff's office. On this we agreed. It became abundantly clear, at that point, that if these folks were to be found, it would be by us or no one. Consequently, James Witt, who had much more knowledge of the topography of the area than the rest of us, his wife Brandy, CJ, and I took two 4-WD trucks to look for the victims. We searched in the two places that the mother indicated they could be. After hours of searching we found the vehicle on the other side of granite creek. They were stuck in almost 4 feet of snow, engine running with less than 1/4 tank of fuel left. It was approximately 4AM, and the vehicle thermometer indicated below zero temps. The driver indicated that they had been stuck since around 7pm the night before and had tried unsuccessfully to dig themselves out. We gathered the family into the two trucks, managed

Elect Lee Wilkinson

- and a possible new career path. I believe that using the reserve program to hire deputies will give us a high quality and dedicated deputy.
1. I want to bring back Protect and Serve, as an elected official it's the duty of the sheriff to Protect and Serve.
 2. I will make sure I am available to the public for comment, concern or just a friendly chat.
 3. I will institute a reserve deputy program that will put more eyes and ears out in the community, it will give people- especially younger folks - a chance to learn
 4. Using a community-policing model I want to engage more with the public and have the deputies engage more with the public. The deputies and I would do more to help citizens resolve issues rather than just directing them to the court system.
 5. I also will keep pressure on the small time criminal; keeping pressure on small time criminals will help to reduce larger crime.

Paid for by the committee to elect Lee Wilkinson to turn our rigs around without too much drama, and headed back to The Gold Mine where they were met by their family with lots of hugging and tears, as you can imagine. We gave them hot chocolate, fed them, and sent them on their way.

There were lots of questions by the mother of the victims about why the Sheriff's office didn't respond. I indicated that was better answered by the Sheriff than me. Either way, they were safe and that is really all that matters. It's interesting that when another human is in trouble and we come to their aid, we are hailed as heroes. There were no heroes that night, just folks helping folks.

CHARMY'S ARMY

Created by DAVY JONES

FRENCHY, IT IS ALMOST YOUR BIRTHDAY!

I KNOW! JANUARY FIRST.

I WAS BORN AT ONE IN THE MORNING. IF I WAS BORN A FEW HOURS EARLIER I WOULD HAVE BEEN AN ENTIRE YEAR OLDER!

I'M NOT SURE YOUR MATH IS ACCURATE.

I'M A YEAR YOUNGER. DO YOU HEAR ME???

YES MA'AM.

MISS FLUTTEREYE, DO YOU FIND BLONDE JOKES OFFENSIVE?!

NO...I USUALLY FIND THEM ONLINE!

I TOLD YOU SHE'S A REAL BLONDE!

RAVENS ARE KNOWN TO STEAL AND CACHE SHINY OBJECTS SUCH AS PEBBLES, COINS, BOTTLECAPS, ETC.

AHEM. ABOL THAT 36 CENTS OF UNREPORTED INCOME...

Unclaimed Property Notice
Why would anyone have unclaimed money? Unclaimed money consists of forgotten bank accounts, refund checks, utility deposits, wages, tax refunds and more. The Idaho State Treasurer's Unclaimed Property Division acts as a consumer protection agency to ensure forgotten funds are returned to their rightful owners. Check online for your name at YourMoney.Idaho.gov.
