Fatality on Arrowrock Road

BOISE COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE -- Elaine Sanchez, 39, of Garden City was driving along Arrowrock Road when the vehicle ran off the road at mile post 19.5, plunging approximately 200 feet down the embankment, stopping just short of the water's edge. She was not wearing a seat belt and was ejected from the vehicle as it rolled several times down the embankment. Alcohol and illegal drugs in her system may have been a contributing factor in the crash. She was pronounced dead at the scene.

Office of Highway Safety Announces Statewide Seat Belt Enforcement

BOISE COUNTY -- Taking three seconds to buckle up before driving or riding in a vehicle could mean the difference between life and death.

That's why the Office of Highway Safety is partnering with local law enforcement agencies to patrol for those not using safety restraints across Idaho. The mobilization will run from July 25-Aug. 7, 2020.

"Our goal is to have everyone buckle up, every time," said John Tomlinson, Office of Highway Safety manager. Seat belts are proven to be the most effective safety feature ever introduced for vehicles. They cut in half the likelihood of fatal and serious injuries from traffic crashes.

Safety restraints are not optional. Idaho law requires that everyone in a vehicle be properly restrained. In the last five years, from 2015-2019, 56% of vehicle occupants killed in Idaho were not restrained and 1,207 unrestrained vehicle occupants were critically injured in traffic crashes.

"This mobilization effort isn't just about handing out citations," said Tomlinson. These efforts are to keep drivers and passengers safe. When you choose not to wear your seat belt, or when you allow your passengers to ride with you unrestrained, you increase the risk of serious injury or death.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), several misconceptions about safety restraints still persist.

Vehicle type: there seems to be a misconception among those who drive and ride in pickup trucks that their large vehicles will protect them better than other vehicles would in a crash. The numbers say otherwise: 59% of pickup truck occupants who were killed in 2018 were not buckled. That's compared to 42% of passenger car occupants who were not wearing seat belts when they were killed. Regardless of vehicle type, seat belt use is the single most effective way to stay alive in a crash.

Seating position: too many people wrongly believe they are safe in the back seat unrestrained. Of front-seat passenger occupants killed in crashes in 2018, 46% were unrestrained, while 56% of those killed in back seats were unrestrained.

Rural versus urban locations: people who live in rural areas might believe that their crash exposure is lower, but in 2018, there were 12,068 passenger vehicle fatalities in rural locations, compared to 10,330 fatalities in urban locations. Out of those fatalities, 49% of those killed in the rural locations were not wearing their seat belts, compared to 45% in urban locations.

"No matter where you live, what you drive, or where you sit, make buckling up a habit," said Tomlinson.

Fatality on HWY 21

BOISE COUNTY -- On Thursday, August 6, 2020, at 1:48 p.m., Idaho State Police investigated a fatality crash northbound on SH21 at mile marker 78, north of Lowman.

Timothy R. Blair, 63, of West Valley, UT, was driving southbound on SH21 on a 2017 Harley Davidson motorcycle. Debiann J. Jenkins, 63, of Syracuse, UT was driving northbound in a 2011 Hyundai Tucson. Blair crossed the center line and struck Jenkins.

Blair was ejected from his motorcycle and succumbed to his injuries at the scene. He was wearing a helmet. Jenkins, along with two juvenile passengers, were all wearing seatbelts.

Next of kin has been notified.

The lanes were blocked for approximately four hours.

This crash is under investigation by the Idaho State Police.

Idaho City Hotel Under New Management

Photos by Eileen Capson

IDAHO CITY -- Come stay at the Idaho City Hotel, where you'll be greeted with a smile. It's a great little getaway and reasonably priced. There are local bars and restaurants nearby to visit, or just sit on the porch with a nice glass of wine. There are five rooms with new beds, two RV spots, and lots of beautiful green grass to pitch a tent out under the stars. See local historical sights, drive through the Boise National Forest, or find recreation activities to do in the mountains. There are other amenities at the hotel, including a BBQ for guests, a fire pit, horseshoe pits, and an outside community bathroom for those that will be camping.

Rent the entire property and hotel for $700 per night until November 1st. Check out their Facebook page for more details, at "Idaho City Hotel."

The Idaho City Hotel is located at 215 Montgomery Street in Idaho City. Call for reservations at 208-392-4499.

BOISE COUNTY

Fire Near the Middlefork and Bunch Dr.

By Marlene Partridge

GARDEN VALLEY -- There was a naturally occurring fire very close to homes near the end of Bunch Drive on Saturday, August 8th, which started at about 5:30 pm and continued until around midnight. Residents in the area were concerned that they did not receive official notification about the fire. Only a few people who "signed up" through Boise County's website received a notification. You can sign up at boisecounty.us under the Sheriff's page by clicking on AlertSense to properly identify your home's location and associated phone number(s).

"I don't know if I received a notification because I signed up a while ago and the list may have been discarded. But I definitely always want to be notified of any significant issue affecting our home, even if it's unlikely to actually affect us," said Pam Sprague, a neighborhood resident.

Should there be a need to evacuate, the community tries to have some awareness of their neighbors, locals explaining that one person had lost their eyesight, another had a family with young children, and there was a resident with serious mobility issues. Even in the best of circumstances, there will be those who need extra help.

Our local volunteer firefighters have been training for months and even years, preparing for auto accidents, structure, and forest fires.

US Army Corps of Engineers

BOISE COUNTY -- The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation will begin lowering the pool elevation of Lucky Peak Reservoir on Monday, August 17. The lowering of Lucky Peak Reservoir follows a typical end of season reservoir drawdown for irrigation as experienced in prior years. Lucky Peak Reservoir pool began lowering on August 14 in 2018 and on August 18 in 2019.

Currently, the Boise River System reservoirs are at 73 percent of capacity. Near normal to slightly above normal carryover is projected in the Boise River System reservoirs at the end of the irrigation season.

For real-time Boise River flows at Reclamation facilities in the Pacific Northwest Region, visit <http://www.usbr.gov/pn/hydromet/rtindex/boise.html>.

Reclamation is the largest wholesale water supplier in the United States, and the nation's second largest producer of hydroelectric power. Its facilities also provide substantial flood control, recreation, and fish and wildlife benefits. Visit our website at <https://www.usbr.gov> and follow us on Twitter @USBR.

The Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation operate three dams on the Boise River as a system to manage flood control and irrigation storage needs — Lucky Peak Dam, Arrowrock Dam, and Anderson Ranch Dam. Storage capacity provided by Reclamation's Arrowrock and Anderson Ranch dams, and the Corps' Lucky Peak Dam, combined with well-planned water releases, help manage how the Boise River flows through the City of Boise.

Clear Creek Volunteer Fire Dept. Storm Leaves Behind Lightning-Caused Fires

By Mike Underwood, CCVFD (Milk Fire crew member)

BOISE COUNTY -- Thursday, August 6, 2020, Responders awoke to radio traffic between Idaho Department of Lands (IDL) and Boise Dispatch as they managed a lightning-caused fire on the backside of Bogus Basin, near the Pine Creek Campground. State crews had deployed to Shafer Butte, late at night on Wednesday, the night of the storm, in anticipation of having to respond to predicted dry lightning. This strategy had paid off, as Incident Commander (IC) Bryan Durkin and his crew had an early start on getting the Shafer Fire under control.

Meanwhile, Clear Creek Volunteer Fire Department (CCVFD) firefighter Marvin Jennings had spotted another plume of smoke near the North Fork of Clear Creek, and shuttled crew and incident command up to the remote fire. This would be called the Bogus Fire, with IDL Fire Warden Casper Urbanek as the IC. As quickly as available, air support was dispatched to the area, and helicopter pilots located two more lightning strikes; one between the Bogus Fire and Shafer Fire, up near the headwaters of North Fork Clear Creek and South Fork Clear Creek. This was called the Clear Fire.

The fourth fire was spotted when CCVFD firefighter Kim Slayton saw smoke approximately 1.5 miles southwest of Warm Springs Summit. Another CCVFD firefighter, Dave Walker, was first on-scene, quickly followed by Assistant Chief Steve Moore, who would be the IC. Due to state resources already being busy fighting the previous three fires, a retardant drop was immediately dispatched to the Milk Fire, which stopped much of its progression. A handful of volunteers responded shortly after, including some that just happened to be working from home due to recent events. The local crew hiked 1/4-mile into the steep terrain with hand tools and dug a control line around the fire. A state engine crew, headed up by Gus Swearingen, arrived later to help finish up the line, assist with chainsaw work, and eventually take over the incident. Once the line was complete, an unusually long hose-lay was deployed to completely put out all remaining signs of fire, and save air resources for the truly remote areas.

At this time, the four fires are in a contained or controlled status and are being monitored.

IC Steve Moore updates the fire size-up card while IDL crew does a post-briefing evaluation of the fire scene.

Pumpkin Fire Rages Through Timber

Written by Tracy Koslosky
HORSESHOE BEND -- Lightning strikes in the Boise County area on August 6th started several fires. One fire began in Horseshoe Bend, southwest of Hawley Mountain, and has been dubbed the Pumpkin fire due to its proximity to Pumpkin Creek Road. Windy conditions and steep terrain are responsible for the fire spreading to just over 400 acres as of August 10th, mostly due to spot fires caused by flying embers. The fire is being fought with air tankers, helicopters, and ground support firefighters.

According to the Idaho Department of Lands Fire information, the steep terrain has "limited the use of dozers and crews are building handlines and installing hose lays to corral the spots and contain the fire."

Both hotshots and smoke-jumpers together with the hand crews are building fire lines and are being backed up by aviation assets.

Fortunately, no structures have been lost and none are currently threatened by the Pumpkin Fire but Idaho Department of Lands will continue to access the situation and maintain contingency planning.

A regional Type 3 Incident Management Team took over management of the fire on Sunday morning. The team initiated an Incident Command Post which they established at the Idaho City Airstrip. Type 3 Incident Management teams are multi-agency/multi-jurisdictional teams that are formed for longer term incidents. They typically consist of ten to twenty trained members who manage major incidents that will require local and state resources. The control of the fire is a combined effort of the U.S. Forest Service, the Idaho Department of Lands, and the Bureau of Land Management.

As of Monday, more than 300 crew members were working the fire incident. While winds were expected on Sunday, higher than normal humidity should bring the temperatures down through Wednesday. Forest Service Road 374 is temporarily closed at the 307 junction to all except fire personnel. The fire was approximately ten percent contained on Monday evening. Those that are planning on recreating in the area are being asked to stay off of roads west of Placerville.

As of Tuesday evening: [according to Regional Incident Management Team - Great Basin] The Pumpkin Fire remains at 432 acres burned. There are pockets of the interior still hot and helicopters are providing water drops to these areas. There are also professional timber fellers removing hazardous trees so that firefighters can work safely. Dozers are being used along the Quartzburg Rd. 343 to improve accessibility to the fire, which is located 7.5 miles northeast of Horseshoe Bend and 8 miles southeast of Garden Valley. No structures were immediately threatened. Hawley Mountain Road 374 is temporarily closed at the 307 junction.

Horseshoe Bend Volunteer Fire was reported as a "grass fire" at 2am on August 6th. This turned out to be a much bigger fire.
