Idaho Falls' Missing Juvenile Results in an Arrest in Boise County

BOISE COUNTY -- A missing person's alert went out on April 25th to law enforcement and was released to the news media for Maya Jones, a 16-year-old from Idaho Falls. She was believed to be endangered and traveling with 32-year-old suspect Tigan Howes.

Boise County Sheriff Scott Turner indicated that shortly after the flyer was released, the Idaho Falls Police contacted Boise County. They had cell phone data that possibly linked the pair to the Idaho City area.

Deputy Wes Crawford and Idaho City Police Chief Mark Otter set out to patrol some of the common areas in which the individuals might be found. The deputy located who he thought may have been the pair setting up a camp just north of Idaho City in the Granite Creek area. The officers detained both individuals until their suspicions were confirmed. Howes was arrested on a warrant out of Bonneville County and taken to the Ada County Jail. The juvenile was transported down to the Ada County Juvenile Center, where she was reunited with her parents after they traveled from Idaho Falls to pick her up.

Howes was arraigned on April 26th in Boise County Magistrate Court on the out-of-county warrant. Bonneville County is expected to transport Howes back to their county to face two felony sexual battery charges of a minor. There will likely be additional charges added to this case.

The Boise County Sheriff's Office released a statement: "Great police work by Boise County's Corporal Crawford who recognized the suspect vehicle in the Idaho City area. Crawford, with the help of Idaho City Police, apprehended the suspect and made sure the juvenile was reunited safely with parents."

BOISE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Transcribed by Eileen Capson

April 25, 2023

Present: Commissioners Steven Twilegar, Clay Tucker, and Lindy Lindstrom

Pledge of Allegiance

PUBLIC INPUT: Steve Moore, Boise County Central Committee, brought up the long-discussed topic of the Zoom capability of the Commissioners' room. Moore said there was a member of the BCRCC that had experience and offered to help with IT, "because there was a lot of concern, a lot of interest in the people being able to watch the meetings." Chairman Twilegar said he would talk with the county's IT person about the issue and reported that there was another failure to their server last week.

MINUTES: Chairman Twilegar motioned to approve the minutes from April 18 and special meeting from April 20, 2023. All were in favor and the motions carried.

COMPENSATION PAY STRUCTURE: Clerk Mary Prisco indicated, "We are a county that has never had a structure for our compensation," and some departments have been more highly compensated than others. She explained, "The whole purpose of a compensation evaluation project is to work towards establishing a system in which we can have some sort of equity across departments, so across the county operations." Prisco said professional services were budgeted for, up to $25,000, related to the compensation project. She said her goal would be to have something prepared before the 2024 budget. Employee evaluations were discussed at length. Twilegar explained that this would create a ladder for employees to look at and decide if they want to switch jobs, get more education, or are happy where they are currently. Another individual recognized that some employees were carrying on more duties and said, "You don't want to be a socialist county. I mean, you can give little raises, but to give everybody across the board the same raise, that's not in my humble opinion, equitable."

Chairman Twilegar motioned to approve a proposal for workplace management solutions for up to 65 hours of work, and Clerk Prisco will head the proposal for the commissioners. The motion carried.

RADIOS: Twilegar motioned to accept a bid for government radio equipment for communication in the amount of $4950. For a portable radio quote, Twilegar motioned approve the amount of $2701. The motions carried.

ROAD DEPARTMENT: Curtis Dill spoke about software updates. Twilegar motioned to approve a purchase for software and equipment in the amount of $10,996.

JUVENILE JUSTICE: Chairman Twilegar motioned to accept the subgrant agreement with Central District Health. All were in favor and the motion carried.

SHERIFF: The annual contract with the City of Horseshoe Bend was discussed. Chairman Twilegar motioned to approve this agreement to provide law enforcement and protection between the county and Horseshoe Bend.

CLAIMS REPORT: Commissioner Twilegar motioned to accept the claims report in the amount of $149,416.71. The motion carried.

ALCOHOL LICENSE: Twilegar motioned to approve the liquor license for a store in Placerville.

RADIO SERVICES: Chairman Twilegar motioned to approve the radio services in the amount of $7,652. The motion carried.

K-9: According to Sheriff Scott Turner, the K-9 "got into something" and became very sick, but she's good to go now. Chairman Twilegar motioned to accept this vet bill for $1,161.47. All were in favor and the motion carried.

BANKS LOWMAN HIGHWAY: Discussion began with a recap of the history of Banks Lowman Highway and continued with the current matter of returning the road to the state of Idaho. Twilegar said there was a section that could be turned over to the state. Commissioner Tucker commented that according to a past document, it did not appear that the state had the authority to hand the road over to Boise County -- "We could go back and say this was never our road." Twilegar recounted that there were different governmental agencies with easements on that road. Tucker said, "I haven't seen all the paperwork, there's a lot of it, but the original agreement that I saw was, the county road was from Banks intersection to Crouch." Commissioner Lindstrom said he would be meeting with past Commissioner Alan Ward to see what documentation he had on the road. It was the consensus that they would pick up where the past board left off. Twilegar stated, "We've met our obligations, according to that contract [with the state of Idaho]," and would like to ask the state to take over one section.

SOFTWARE: Clerk Prisco discussed the county's current software and other software available.

Springtime in Boise County

Due to high spring runoff, people were stranded over the weekend on the other side of the road traveling toward the Mayflower Mine up Granite Steet, Boise County Road 343. A declaration of emergency was signed by county commissioners on May 2nd.

Trinia Richardson, Boise County Emergency Manager, explained, "The Boise County Emergency Declaration is a tool used to help manage emergencies. Depending on the extent of damages caused by the flooding it is the first step in being able to request a State Declaration which allows state agencies to allow assistance to the county."

Cassin's Finch Has Returned

By Idaho World staff
BOISE COUNTY -- One of the first migratory birds that shows up in Boise County every year is the Cassin's Finch. The male Cassin's Finch is similar in appearance to a house sparrow, but with a red peaked 'crown.' The male house finch also does not have the red-washed back of the male Cassin's finch. The female is, like most female songbird species, drabber in color. They are stocky, brown and white with a moderately streaked breast. Cassin's Finches breed mostly between 3,000 and 10,000 feet of elevation, from May 15th to June 15th. They live in mature forests, primarily of lodge-pole pine and ponderosa pine, but are also found in several other pine species, as well as quaking aspen. Many Cassin's Finches may nest in the same tree. Trees sometimes have ten or more nests!

They winter at lower elevations as far south as Baja California and mainland Mexico. Though Cassin's Finches are a common site in the spring and summer in Boise County, they are considered "Birds of Breeding Concern." They have experienced widespread declines of about 16%.

Windows in homes are one of the main causes of death of birds

Window strikes are among the top three human-related causes of bird deaths. Other human-caused mortalities are a result of cats and habitat destruction. According to the Audubon Society up to one billion birds die each year in the United States due to collisions with windows and research shows that 54-76 percent of window collisions are fatal. Many of the deaths do occur in large buildings but surprisingly even more are a result of windows in homes. The good news is that you can greatly reduce the danger your home's windows pose to birds with some simple remedies. Here are some considerations to keep in mind when making your windows bird safe: Most birds will avoid glass with vertical or horizontal stripes (or other markings) spaced 2" apart. Stripes should be at least 1/8" wide. A good rule of thumb is you should be able to see the pattern clearly from ten feet away. Dots work great too, as long as there are less than 2 inches apart. Use your imagination when it comes to designs. It's the spacing that matters! Here are a few suggestions for your windows:

Male and female Cassin's Finch Photos by Idaho World staff

Cabin windows can be a hazard for migratory birds.

- Move feeders very close or far away from your windows. If feeders are 1.5 feet or closer birds won't be able to build up enough momentum to hurt themselves if they do fly against the glass.
- Close curtain and blinds, when possible, to break up the illusion of clear passage or reflected habitat.
- 'Paint' windows with chalk paint. This can be a demonstration of your art skills or be a fun family activity.
- Buy window decals. There are many designs to choose from.
- Install screens for windows that open.
- Keep lights off at night. Migrating birds use light cues from the moon and stars to direct them. Outside, as well as inside lights, can confuse them, resulting in window strikes.

PLACERVILLE -- Skip and Donna Myers have officially retired, having sold the Donna's Place grocery store in Placerville last week and the Donna's Place in Idaho City back in 2016. About the many years spend in both stores, Skip wrote that, "We were open over 30 years. We've met the greatest people in the world over the years and we will miss all of you very much. Far too many to name, but you're all so great. We've seen kids born, watched them grow up and have children of their own, and hired many. I really thank you all so much and already miss you, each and every one of you."

Wilma Eck has bought the Placerville store and will be calling it, "My Place." She is planning on offering a good stock of essentials and being open seven days a week. Eck is a longtime resident of Boise County and looks forward to this new venture.

Letter to the Editor

After reading the article in the ID. World 4.26.23 edition by the Boise County Republican Central Committee, I came away with the impression that the BCRCC wants only robots to be elected to office, elected officials who do what they are told by the BCRCC and don't dare to use their brain. I am pleased to find that some elected officials can still think for themselves.

Puppy Swagger Offers Local Dog Grooming Services

Kuroi gets lathered and pampered at Puppy Swagger in Crouch on Friday.

CROUCH -- Newfoundland dogs, or “Newfies,” Kuroi (black) and Haiku (bronze) were treated by their mommy to a spa day last Friday. Puppy Swagger is owned and operated by Monica Hunter. She has over 20 years of experience and has recently moved to Garden Valley. She loves taking care of all sizes of dogs.

The Newfies had no problem navigating the stairs up to the tub, and later proved to be good about staying on the table for the blow out, combing, and trimming.

Monica is located next to the Senior Center and takes appointments Monday through Friday, working from 9am until the last "puppy" is done for the day. She can be reached at 208-509-0778, to schedule an appointment for your dog.

Haiku is a pretty boy after his wash and grooming.
