HORSESHOE BEND -- On Saturday night, July 1, more than 700 people attended a sold out, standing room only event put on by the Horseshoe Bend Valley Chamber of Commerce to benefit the Woods Veterans Memorial Park. Freedom Fight Night featured multi discipline fighters from the Treasure Valley in exhibition bouts. Horseshoe Bend Valley Chamber President Kimberly Welsh, along with the HSB Valley Chamber team, Combat Fitness, Straight Blast Gym, Ricky Steele, and local sponsors helped to make the night a huge success.

Kimberly Welsh, Co-Lead of the Horseshoe Bend Valley Chamber, wrote: "The Chamber plans to hold HSB Freedom Fight Night annually at the Woods Veterans Memorial Park, add vendors, and make sure there is plenty of free water on hand for the crowd. Net proceeds go to the paving of the parking lot, the addition of restrooms, to match funds for the moving of the Boise Street steel trestle bridge to the west entrance of the park near the Greenbelt (once the replacement bridge is built - building of the new Boise Street bridge will begin this fall with a full grant from the Governor's rebuilding bridges program), a water feature under the relocated trestle bridge, and other community plans for the Veterans Park. Tickets sold out! D+D Socials worked with SBG Idaho to manage the promotion and branding of Fight Night and did an incredible job. Kenny Keene estimates there were 750 people watching the fights at our new Veterans Park. There are some amazing Facebook videos and pictures on HSB Valley Chamber, SBG Idaho, and on Ricky Steele's page. We have some logistics we are already working on to make the event go even more smoothly next year. The chamber deeply appreciates Ricky Steele and SBG Idaho for their incredible work pulling together these fabulous young fighters for over three hours of mixed martial arts and other types of competition. This will continue to be a wonderful event for our incredible little river town - Horseshoe Bend owns Fight Night!!"

IDAHO CITY -- There was standing room only at the City Council meeting on June 28, 2023. Citizens came to speak out against the altercations with law enforcement and the bikers from the Vagos motorcycle club.

Chief of Police Mark Otter in Idaho City said, "The Mayor and I have a plan. We know we can do more, and we will do more in the future."

Mayor of Idaho City Ken Everhart advised, "We can't discuss this because it's an ongoing investigation, and we need the input from our City Attorney, but we need to get this situation under control as soon as possible so we don't have another situation."

Bobby Mathews, owner of the Idaho City Grocery, exclaimed, "Enough is enough!" He summarized disturbances, fights, and altercations that have affected his business. He alluded to fights breaking out during the Ridge Riders weekend, and three other specific instances over Father's Day weekend. Mathews addressed: "Mayor Everhart and Chief Otter, the eyes of the Idaho citizens are on you. Take care of this mess that has been going on for far too long."

There was a total of seventeen citizens signed up to speak, and most of them echoed the fear that they were not safe in Idaho City anymore.

Others voiced concerns about the unaccountability of the drinking which takes place at the Gold Mine Saloon, and the possibility of this leading to heated altercations that require law enforcement.

The remaining comments shared were regarding the Vagos motorcycle club. Bret Berry said he has spent twenty-nine years in law enforcement and he referred specifically to them as the "Vagos gang." Berry warned, "There's a bully in town. They are not going to stop their drug trafficking, sex trafficking, and other travesties. We need to hold people accountable. This will only grow if we don't stop it."

There was discussion regarding the manager of the Gold Mine Grill and Saloon who is also an elected Boise County Commissioner, Steve Twilegar. Boise County Sheriff Scott Turner said, "I support the citizens in Idaho City and the county. We don't work for County Commissioners; they provide our funding. We are working with Federal, State, and Law Enforcement agencies, who are helping us. This element is not welcome in Boise County. We know how you feel. We will do whatever we can to make you feel and be safe. Feel free to call me." Turner added, "We need input from the citizens. We can't do anything without your help. If you see it; then report it. We need to know where the problems arise so we can check on them. If you see it, speak up and sign a complaint. Law enforcement can do nothing if you don't sign a complaint and speak out."

The emblem of the Vagos motorcycle club is Loki, the Norse god of mischief and their riders often wear green. Known as the Green Nation, formed in San Bernardino, California in 1965, the U.S. Justice Department recognized that this group operates in states including California, Arizona, Hawaii, Oregon, and Nevada. There is a primary concern with the production and distribution of methamphetamine; however, the Vagos members have also been charged with money laundering and insurance fraud, as well as more violent crimes, the Justice Department says.

BOISE COUNTY

BOISE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Transcribed by Eileen Capson

June 27, 2023

Present: Commissioners Steven Twilegar, Lindy Lindstrom, and Clay Tucker

Pledge of Allegiance

CONSTITUENT INPUT:

A telecommunications representative from White Cloud Communications requested a letter of support, "to bring highspeed broadband to Idaho City." He said the engineering had already been done, and there were over 600 locations this would serve. Chairman Twilegar was in support and made a motion to provide a letter for White Cloud Communications to bring in highspeed fiber to Idaho City. All were in favor and the motion carried.

Jean Mellenkopf, Chairwoman for the Boise County Republican Central Committee, stated: "This is very important for every county in Idaho, because it looks like we are going to go to a caucus system in March, on March 2nd, for the Presidential Election, because our Primary was taken out by our Secretary of State and legislation." [This press release was published in last week's Idaho World newspaper.]

MINUTES: Twilegar motioned to approve the meeting minutes from the previous week. The motion carried.

SRS FUNDING: Clerk Mary Prisco outlined the amounts to be distributed to the schools, Title 3, and road department. She said the distribution for Title 1 was 85% [county school districts and roads], Title 2 was 8% [Resource Advisory Committee (RAC) to be distributed in the form of grant awards], and 7% to Title 3 [fire mitigation projects and search and rescue efforts on federal lands]. She said the estimated total amount from the Secure Rural Schools funding was $950,100 to Boise County. Chairman Twilegar motioned to approve the amounts explained by Clerk Prisco. The motion carried.

AIR CONDITIONING: The AC unit in the server room had gone out and Assessor Chris Juszczak recommended purchasing a new larger unit, rather than paying the expense to have the older, smaller unit fixed. "We need to take care of this," Commissioner Twilegar said. "Better now than when everything blows up." He made a motion to approve the purchase of a new air conditioning unit for their server room in the amount of $4,702.60. The motion carried.

SOLID WASTE: Paul Rekow presented a bid to repair the Garden Valley Transfer Station building damage, "a guy backed into it back in February." The insurance check had already been received. Chairman Twilegar motioned to approve the bid for $4,300. The motion was approved.

SHERIFF AUCTION: Sheriff Scott Turner spoke about the vehicles with issues, which they plan to send to an auction. There will also be UTVs and equipment going to auction. Twilegar said, "If anybody else wants to put anything in there, now is a good time to do it." Twilegar made a motion to accept Resolution 2023-24 to declare a live auction to sell select items from the Sheriff's Office. The motion carried.

REPORT: Chairman Twilegar motioned to approve a report in the amount of $142,080.44. All were in favor and the motion carried.

NEXT MEETING: The board discussed the upcoming meeting on July 5th, which will include a board of equalization for seven property owners [regarding their property assessments]. Assessor Juszczak said it was approximately fifty property owners last year that disagreed with their assessments.

EXECUTIVE SESSION: Twilegar motioned to go into closed executive session for pending litigation. [Time 9:24am to 9:29am] There was no action required.

EXECUTIVE SESSION: Twilegar motioned to go back into executive session for a personnel issue. [Time 9:30am to 10:09am] Coming back into session, Twilegar said there was no action at this time.

COMMUNITY JUSTICE: Amanda Leader said that, the previous day, Judge Strong had sentencing hearings and the county will receive a total of 160 hours of community service. Twilegar said excitedly, "Go Judge Strong!" Leader followed by saying, "I'm pretty excited about that. Four people will have 90 hours, couple 30s and a 20."

ROAD DEPARTMENT: Curtis Dill said they had been working hard on cleaning up Banks Lowman Road. He said they had also been working on putting more material on the roads and dust abatement - about $60,000 worth. He's hoping to get going on the replacement of the culvert on Centerville Road and the project is moving forward. Dill said there were some large "washouts" on Banks Lowman Road and Arrowrock Road, and they are looking at cost-effective repair options. They are looking at possible funding for the replacement of the Gardena Bridge.

Dill said per his department there are only three individuals in Garden Valley, one quitting in Horseshoe Bend next week, leaving a crew of two, and they are having a hard time finding qualified individuals to fill the job. He said that normally he has a crew of twelve, but is now down to eight or nine.

SHERIFF: Turner said that the last four weekends have been "extremely busy." The department has had to pull in officers on their days off and they're getting paid overtime. Sheriff Turner said they're trying to keep up, and some evenings have "had to stack emergency calls, which is not good." He said it's due to the increasing number of recreationalists, vehicle crashes on the highways, search and rescues, ATV crashes, and music festivals. The department is trying to serve the people, prioritize calls, and get there as soon as they can.

Sheriff Turner addressed the issue that Bogus Basin is not required to get a mass gathering permit through Boise County. However, the county requires other music events to get mass gathering permits. "Bogus Basin doesn't contribute anything to the county and taxpayer's dollars go to support the resources that we have to expend up there," Turner said. Twilegar would like to put that subject on the agenda.

ASSESSOR: Juszczak said they were shorthanded again and his department is down two people.

SOLID WASTE: Rekow said they were also down on their number of people.

EMERGENCY MANAGER: Trinia Richardson said they are looking to do a "Mass Causality Exercise" in the fall with all three schools.

CLERK: Prisco said the job available in her office had several applicants apply. She has mainly been focused on developing the budget for the next fiscal year.

POWER OUTAGES: According to Idaho Power, they are within the parameters according to law, but the county loses equipment every time there is a power outage or bump. It was said that surge protectors would not help.

ITD: The Idaho Transportation Department's Kevin Lakey, an engineer, came to talk about highways and state infrastructure, mainly Highway 21 and Highway 55. Another representative recounted how, last year, the department met with the locals in Lowman who were not happy about the speed limit and the increase of traffic. ITD listened and added some additional double yellow striping and put up some new signs. They have not dropped the speed limit, but they have some other ideas for signs. Widening the road near the Sourdough Lodge was discussed to add a turning lane. Lakey said, "We've really enjoyed working with the community. The folks were a little upset when we walked into that first meeting in August, but we walked out and they were a little happier and I think they appreciated our willingness to do some things right away."

Regarding the intersection between Banks Lowman and Highway 55, a representative explained that they received a grant to do a study of the traffic. The flagging is working, "but ultimately there needs to be some sort of stop control at that intersection." A signal was discussed; however, "We have intersections that are much higher priority from a safety standpoint, which is usually what drives us to widen intersections, add signals." He said that eventually what will need to happen is the widening of both bridges, the local bridge into the rafting parking lot and the Payette River

Fourth of July Rubber Ducky Race

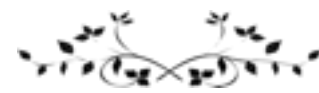

Hundreds of duckies were off to the races on July 4th. While some veered off course, others made it downstream in the South Fork of the Payette River to cross the finish line in Garden Valley.

This little contender was several duck-lengths ahead of the flock and floating in favorable waters. Number 695 was in the lead going under the bridge to the finish and won the duck race!

The 6-29-23 5:45pm game between Fair and Square (GV- grey shirts) and Power Inc (GV- neon orange) was eventful. Fair and Square won 15-12. the play of the evening was Corbin Fields jumping over the fence to catch a foul ball for the out. Thankfully he was not hurt, but his mom had "heart failure" watching it, as did some others.

It was a Horseshoe Bend showdown between KDM (black) vs Payette Rive Landscape (neon green). PRL out ran KDM 19-12.

Bridge. ITD is currently analyzing what kind of bridge will be needed to replace the local bridge. Another representative clarified that a signal will best address the issue, but first they would have to widen the bridges. They are looking for future grant opportunities and will provide flagging ten weeks this year, including: Father's Day, through July, the first weekends in August, and Labor Day.

The next to be addressed was the Horseshoe Bend drainage and sidewalk project. The representative said he was "excited" about this project and recounted that the city was awarded a quarter of a million-dollar grant for a needed sidewalk in Horseshoe Bend. The city presented their plan, but ITD asked if they could expand on it and added drainage. However, this raised the estimated project cost to three quarters of a million dollars. He went to the ITD board and explained how they wanted to enhance the project for safety, and was able to announce, "The board has funded the additional half million dollars to get this done." HSB is expected to administer the project.

A representative spoke about the incident that happened on Highway 55 when the vehicle was struck by a falling tree, "We had 217 fatalities last year. And those are 217 fatalities that we don't want across our great state. So, we do everything we can to make the roads as safe as possible. There has been a lot of discussion over these last three weeks about salts and the impact of salt on the trees. In speaking with the U.S. Forest Service, they learned that salt is just one of many factors in the ecosystem along the river. There is also disease of the pine trees, emissions, pine beetles, etc. ITD is planning to work with the Forest Service and Hot Shot Crews after the 4th of July, "We're going to come through there with them and take out as many of the dead trees as we can, and as long as they have time." The area they will be covering is from Gardena to Banks. They are also planning a "thinning operation" to decrease the number of trees all fighting for water and space. The plan includes removing trees from the "clear zone" at the side of the road. The representative of ITD added, "I understand that people are frustrated, but trust us, there are tradeoffs here. We have seen fatalities in the winter, over the last ten years, drop drastically between November and March because of us going to a salt program. And we are working on ways to reduce our salt input on State Highway 55, from Horseshoe Bend all the way to the Paddy Flats. We are applying a new salt they call a salt kicker." He said it was like blue salt, but is a different blend and use 40% less than the white salt product. "And it works just as effectively, if not more effectively." Some of this additional planning was due to the fatality, but the representative confirmed that much of the tree removal project was already planned.

Twilegar asked, "So, when are you going to take Highway 17 from us?" He recalled in the 50s, the county took over the Banks Lowman Road, "When you go down that road, you see no 6B [license] plates... To us, it's more of a state highway." He said the county had upheld an agreement to provide improvements, for a portion from Banks to Garden Valley, for ITD to take back the road. ITD explained there had been some legal hang-ups in making the exchange.

Commissioner Tucker gave some history, "21 was the major highway through there until the Banks Lowman got paved from Garden Valley to Lowman. Then that took a lot of traffic off of 21 and added all that interstate traffic through 17."

Tucker recalled that in 2015 the amount of money it would take for rock fall mitigation was estimated at $50 million dollars, and has likely increased since that time. He added, "That's never going to happen for the county, and for the state to follow through on the agreement to take the whole road. I just don't see that as being feasible anytime, from the county's standpoint. In my opinion, probably Western Federal Lands that paved the road made the traffic the way it is. If it wasn't paved from Garden Valley to Lowman, it would have very limited traffic on it. Once federal highways paved that section, made it function as a state highway, then that's what it is."

Commissioner Lindstrom commented that he had learned that the road, "wasn't ever the state's to give us back in the 50s." Tucker said the previous Boise County Prosecutor had said that may be one route to get the state to take back the road.

Commissioner Twilegar thanked the individuals from ITD for their willingness to work with Boise County. A representative complimented the Boise County Road Department on moving rock off the Banks Lowman Road. Twilegar responded, "Our guys are doing an amazing job, especially for being as shorthanded - actually, all of our departments are kicking butt - especially considering, we don't have enough employees. We just don't pay a lot of money."

ITD said they were fully staffed with four individuals. The representative added, "Our new truck fleet has been delayed, like everything, because of Covid. But we're supposed to see some new trucks this fall. You'll see some amazing new shiny ones up here this winter. I'm not promising that, but you may see them. They're pretty! Polished aluminum wheels and aluminum beds on them."

Sheriff Turner pointed out that both north and south of Idaho City, for more than one or two years now, there were rockslides over the fog line, fallen trees, and turnouts getting stacked full of rocks and debris. He inquired about any maintenance plans for this year. As stated by ITD, there are plans in the works to address these issues.

The Horseshoe Bend Valley Chamber of Commerce presented a mixed martial arts exhibition on Saturday, July 1st, at the Woods Veterans Memorial Park. Table sponsors for the event included Boise County Commissioners Steve Twilegar, Lindy Lindstrom and Clay Tucker. The World inquired if this were a county donation, and according to Clerk Prisco, she was under the impression that this was an individual donation.

Annual Breakfast Fundraiser in Lowman

LOWMAN -- The Lowman ambulance service held their annual breakfast Saturday, July 1st. Many people from the community, as well as visitors camping for the 4th of July weekend, came out to support the ambulance service. Volunteer ambulance driver and firefighter, Ray Hershberger told the World that eighty breakfasts were sold that morning.

The Lowman ambulance, Unit 12, is part of the East Boise County Ambulance Department. They are partially funded through government programs. However, donations through this fundraiser assist the all-volunteer crew with their many needed supplies. Funds also assist with the maintenance and upkeep needs of the building, Station 80, of which is shared with the Lowman Volunteer Fire Department.

Rob Shelton was kind enough to stop by Station 80 for breakfast too. He serves as a lead EMT for Idaho City Unit 14 ambulance, had said that he was in the neighborhood and wanted to support his fellow emergency workers. Shelton enjoyed the hot breakfast and pointed out that the volunteers are the heart of the community, "selfless and dedicated."

Camper Lost & Found

BOISE COUNTY -- While camping with a large group of family members, Modesto Echeveste Jr, aka Moy, 24, went missing on June 30th from the Grandjean Campground. Idaho Search and Rescue, Boise County Search and Rescue, and the Forest Service were called in to try and locate the missing man from Ontario who had no experience in camping. The parties had no luck in locating Echeveste, but after spending two nights out on his own was found on the other side of the river late Sunday afternoon. Sheriff Scott Turner commented that although the man was only dressed in shorts and a tank top, he was very lucky and in good shape.

Apparently, Echeveste had

been spotted by some people in the area where Search and Rescue had tried to find the missing man, located near the campground by the lodge. A backcountry guide helped with his horses to bring Echeveste back across the South Fork of the Payette River.
