Deputy Attorney General Michael "Scott" Keim Appointed to Boise County Bench

BOISE COUNTY — The Fourth Judicial District Magistrates Commission has appointed Deputy Attorney General Michael "Scott" Keim as the new magistrate judge for Boise County, following a competitive selection process that concluded on September 22, 2025.

Keim steps into the role vacated by Judge Adam Strong, who was recently appointed to the Power County bench.

The commission reviewed applications from four highly qualified candidates, including Gregory Stewart Loos (Attorney 2, IDOPL), Trenton Alan McRae (Canyon County Deputy Prosecutor), and Alex Sosa (Boise County Prosecuting Attorney), before selecting Keim for the position.

Originally from Casper, Wyoming, Keim earned a Bachelor of Science in Psychology from the University of Wyoming in 1994 and a Juris Doctor from the University of Utah's S.J. Quinney College of Law in 1998. He began his legal career as a deputy public defender in Canyon County and later practiced civil litigation and personal injury law with Brady Lerma, Chartered and Lerma Law Offices.

Since 2006, Keim has served in the Office of the Idaho Attorney General, representing agencies such as the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare, the Idaho Department of Labor, and the Idaho Human Rights Commission.

Keim is a father of three and enjoys skiing, hunting, and spending time outdoors.

His appointment marks a new chapter for Boise County's judiciary, bringing decades of legal experience and public service to the bench.

Tragic Crash Sparks Overnight River Recovery Effort on Highway 55

BOISE COUNTY — A devastating single-vehicle crash along Highway 55 on the evening of September 20 led to a complex and somber recovery operation in the Payette River, involving multiple emergency response teams.

At approximately 6:02 p.m., a 2012 Ford F350 driven by a 45-year-old man from Caldwell veered off the northbound lanes near mile marker 79, north of Banks. The vehicle plunged down an embankment into the river. Both the driver and his 25-year-old passenger managed to exit the submerged truck, but tragedy followed.

The driver succumbed to injuries at the scene. The passenger, though able to escape the vehicle, became trapped downstream—his foot pinned beneath a rock just below the river's surface. Due to the prolonged submersion, the operation shifted from rescue to recovery.

Responding to the Boise County Sheriff's Office request, the Idaho Mountain Search and Rescue Unit (IMSARU) mobilized 15 volunteers and worked through the night alongside Garden Valley Fire, Idaho State Police, the Boise County Coroner, and the Idaho Transportation Department. A high-line reeving rope system was constructed across the river to position a rescue raft over the victim's location. The individual was carefully freed and brought to shore in the early morning hours.

Additional rope systems were deployed to navigate the steep terrain between the riverbank and the roadway. All lanes of Highway 55 were closed for approximately 12 hours during the operation.

Authorities praised the coordination and professionalism of all agencies involved. IMSARU credited the value of teamwork in such a chal-

Idaho History 1800 to Present
By Skip Myers

Idaho City, Idaho

With the dawn of the 1862 gold rush in Boise Basin, so began the development of the State of Idaho. The Basin story is a fascinating one, deserving of its place in history.

The rush was on. Originally, people traveled by steamer up the Columbia River to Umatilla, departing from Umatilla by stage lines, and finally journeying by pack-train to reach the Boise Basin. Difficult winters and shortages of food made life treacherous. One year, a food riot occurred because the spring supplies from Walla Walla had never arrived. The Basin's population swelled to 25,000 with the arrival of prospectors. The mining proved extensive, with gold deposits discovered distributed throughout the Basin. Many claimed it was the "best mining district we ever saw". The mining laws were considered fair and liberal. On February 4, 1864 Boise County was established. That same year, wagon roads brought the wagon trains, hauled by four, six, eight, or even twelve horses or mules. The saw mill ran continuously, with rough lumber building up cities like magic.

By 1863, Idaho City had grown to 6,000 people and had 250 places of business. Idaho City assumed notoriety as being the best mining camp in the Basin and the general rendezvous place of miners, speculators, and gamblers. There was plenty of amusement. Streets were thronged with wagons, horses, mules, and cattle. Idaho City also was favored for its never failing water supply.

The Basin attracted families as it offered special appeal to those seeking homes. More children and women were in evidence here than in most other mining camps. Two early schools were soon in operation, as well as a lending library. The Basin also believed in and appreciated good government.

The height of the boom lasted from 1863 to 1866. By 1867 many of the first wave of miners sold out to Chinese miners who were able, through industrious work, to make the mines pay; the 1870 Census lists 1,700 Chinese residents. The rich gold fields were considered "panned out" as most readily worked streams had been worked by earlier miners. Another major factor in the population decline was the high loss caused by destructive fires. Fires hit Idaho City in 1865, 1867, 1868 and 1871, putting an end to the mid-1800s era of rapid growth and population boom in Idaho City.

Boise Basin Museum Offers a Golden Opportunity Before Winter Closure

IDAHO CITY — History buffs and treasure seekers alike have a new reason to visit the Boise Basin Museum: gold is now for sale! Patrons can purchase souvenir vials containing 1 grain of gold—with or without garnets—as well as gold pan magnets featuring real gold securely glued inside. For perspective, one grain is a tiny fraction of an ounce, with 437.5 grains making up a single ounce.

The museum's latest offerings pay tribute to Idaho City's glittering past. In its heyday, the region produced more gold than Alaska or California, with 250,000 ounces mined annually for two consecutive years. At today's market value, that haul would be worth a staggering $1.2 billion.

Visitors are encouraged to explore the museum's new displays and immerse themselves in the rich legacy of gold mining in the Boise Basin. But time is running out—the museum is open weekends only until October, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., before closing for the winter season.

Whether you're drawn by the sparkle of gold or the stories of Idaho's mining boom, this is a golden chance to experience history firsthand.

Pony Express Weekend at Cowboy Campground Honors Community and Legacy

IDAHO CITY -- The weekend of September 13-14 at Cowboy Campground was truly unforgettable. The Pony Express event shone in every way, bringing together our community in a manner that was both heartwarming and inspiring.

What made this year so special was the relaxed atmosphere, the slower pace, and the genuine connections formed. Whether chatting, riding, cheering, or simply watching, everyone seemed fully present in the moment. Many of our exhibitors, who typically ride only in the arena, embraced the trails, with some even venturing into town to enjoy meals, shopping, and entertainment. A few riders shared their horses with children, creating moments of pure joy. Even Sunday's gentle rain could not dampen the spirit of the crowd, and together, we proudly raised over $4,000 in support of the Amelia Palmer family.

In addition to celebrating the event, we also came together to honor a life taken far too soon. Thirteen-year-old Amelia Palmer, a passionate rider and beloved member of our community, was remembered alongside other rodeo royalty. In her honor, her friend Chelsea Eller led Amelia's riderless horse through the trail obstacles and across the course, just as Amelia would have wanted.

At the Jim Haswell Rodeo Arena, a Cowboy's Prayer was recited. As the final words were spoken, thunder rolled and the skies opened in a brief downpour, as if nature itself joined in the memorial. Then, just as quickly, the skies cleared and the sun shone brightly - a powerful reminder of hope and light even in moments of sorrow.

This event would not have been possible without the generosity of our community. A heartfelt thank you goes to our local donors: Iron Mountain Coffee, Chicory and Sage Wine Bar, Breath of Fresh Hair Salon, Smoke Jumper, Trudy's Diner, and Mona Lisa Tattoo. Your contributions added warmth and support that made a lasting impact.

Together, we shared a memorable event and a reminder of the strength, love, and resilience within our community. A huge thank you to all those who worked tirelessly to make it happen!

Junior Celeste Wilson contributed across the board with 8 kills, 16 digs, 3 aces, and 1 assist. Freshman Brooklyn Hess tallied 8 kills, 25 digs, and 1 assist, while fellow freshman Trinity Catherman anchored the defense with 16 digs, 4 assists, and 1 ace. Varsity Football: Horseshoe Bend High School has officially canceled the remainder of its 2025 varsity football season due to low roster numbers. With only nine players currently available and several dealing with injuries, school officials determined that continuing varsity competition would not be safe or sustainable. In an effort to keep players active and engaged, the program has scheduled two junior varsity matchups. The JV Mustangs will travel to Adrian, Oregon on Friday, October 3 for a 4:00 p.m. game and will host Garden Valley on Wednesday, October 8 at 6:00 p.m. While the early conclusion to the varsity season is unfortunate, school officials remain optimistic about the program’s future. Participation in the middle school program is strong, and Horseshoe Bend anticipates a return to full varsity competition in the 2026 season.

CuMo Mine Potential Impacts

Interested in learning more about the CuMo mine?

Join us on Friday Sept. 26 from 2-3 pm at the Placerville Square for an informal discussion of questions that community members should consider asking of mine developers.

John Robison from the Idaho Conservation League and Sydney Anderson from Idaho Rivers United want to hear from community members about any concerns and questions you have about the mine.

They will also share their experiences about how to engage in the mine permitting process.

Both organizations have been raising concerns about the CuMo project since 2012 when a federal court found that the Forest Service failed to analyze potential effects to groundwater from exploration activities. Refreshments will be served.
